County Mayors' Council in Favor of Hotel Tax

Cow Palace Suggested

By VERN KROGH

Representatives of almost every city in the county left no doubts Friday night that a county-wide hotel and motel tax should be enacted, but they made it especially clear that they were far from agreement that it should be earmarked towards construction of a new convention center.

Representatives of the North County at a meeting of the San Mateo County council of Mayors in San Mateo noted that the county has probably one of the best convention centers in the Cow Palace.

Officials from Redwood city argued that any center should be constructed in the county seat, while proponents of a centrally located center in the San Mateo Fairgrounds in the Hillsdale area noted the county already owns property there.

Mayor Wallace Benson, chairman of the county-wide organization, cited that the only hotel in the county that now assesses a tax against transit guests is the Hilton Inn at the San Francisco International Airport, and that tax goes to San Francisco.

He said it has been estimated that a tax such as assessed in many other parts of the county would raise in excess of $350,000 a year for the county.

Pointing to arguments for the proposed levy, Benson asserted, "It's about time we have a first class convention center here. A sales tax would not be a local tax burden, and no bond issue would be needed." He added the hotel-motel tax could be earmarked for a specific purpose.

The first dissenting note on what the tax should be used for came from Mayor John Rosselli of Redwood City, who remarked the problem was one of location.

"As the county seat we have the natural location," he claimed.

Benson suggested any convention center should be centrally located on property already owned by the county.

"The main purpose is to bring people here," Benson asserted. "You cannot sell the county unless you bring the people here."

He noted that a factory in South San Francisco would have employes living in Daly City, Pacifica and elsewhere.

Deploring the "lack of co-operation" between cities, Benson went on:

"We will never accomplish anything in this county if we keep doing things on a regional basis. We are building a county here — a tremendous county—and if we fail to co-operate nothing will be accomplished. We can no longer continue to operate as individual cities. We must work on a co-operative basis or we shall have a third-class county. it is true each of us might reduce each of our city tax rates 2 or 3 cents. But over the years we shall have accomplished nothing."

Councilman Albert Polonsky of Daly City interjected, "We have an excellent location in Daly City known as the Cow Palace."

Councilman Andrew Rocca of South San Francisco noted that

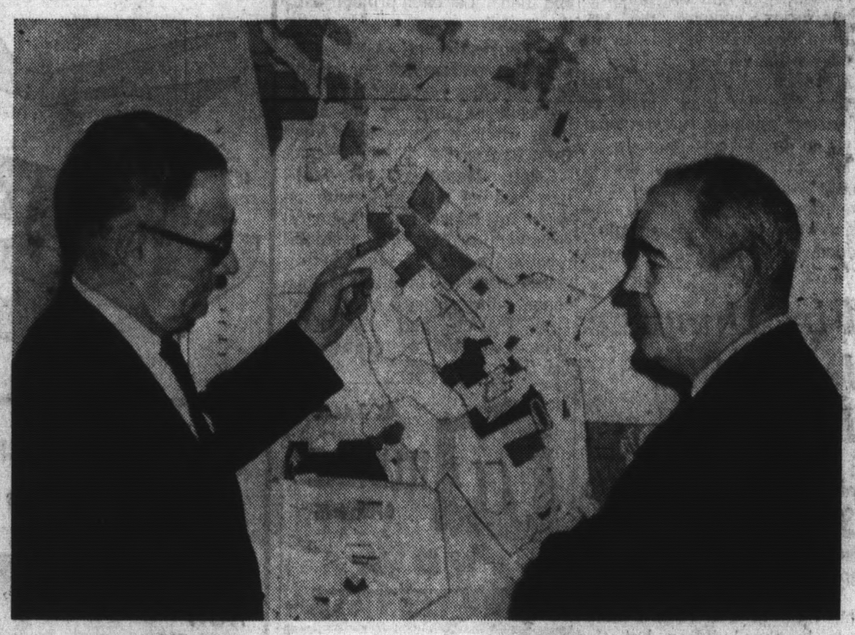
Discussing a Victory



THE SUPERINTENDENTS of two North Countyy school districts, using a map as a guide, discuss the results of a successful joint bond election held last week. Voters approved a total of $13.5-million in bonds. BOND ISSUE VOTE

School Districts Push Build Plans

By DON MILLER

The Jefferson Elementary and High School Districts, backed by a resounding vote of confidence from taxpayers, pressed ahead this week with plans to add classrooms and facilities to serve rising enrollments.

The new facilities will be financed from the proceeds of bond issues authorized by voters last week.

In a joint bond election, residents voted by margins of about 3½ to 1 in favor of two bond issues totaling $13.5 million. A 2-1 margin had been needed for passage.

Approval of the bonds will not mean an increase in district tax rates, however, because both districts now are levying a legal maximum tax for current indebtedness.

In the elementary district, residents approved a $3-million bond issue by a vote of 5,187 to 1,467.

In the high school district, a $10-million bond proposal was approved by a vote of 7,184 to 2,150. Voters also approved, 6,620 to 2,397, authorization for the district to seek a $5.5-million loan from the state.

The elementary district wil use bond monies for the construction of its John F. Kennedy School adjacent to the St. Francis Square Shopping Center.

The school will be designed for an enrollment of 1,000 pupils

D.C. Girl Is Assaulted Near Stable

Sheriff's deputies and police were attempting yesterday to identify a man who made a maniacal sexual attack on an 11-year-old girl near Daly City Monday.

Deputies said the victim and her sister had rented horses at the Palomar Stables, 2116 Olympic Way, and that the 11-year-old started out on the bridle path ahead of the other girl when the sister had trouble with her horse.

The little victim told deputies that soon after she left the stables gate she saw a partially disrobed man running toward her. She said she could not make the horse run so she jumped off and ran down the path.

The man chased her for about 100 yards, the girl told deputies, and finally caught her, dragged her for about 10 yards and threw her in some bushes.

Then he took off her clothes, she said, while holding one hand over her mouth to muffle her screams. He threatened to kill her, the girl told deputies.

It was uncertain, deputies

Ulcers Cause Death in D.C. Kidney Case

A Daly City woman who received a kidney transplant from her mother last May died last week of complications arising from drugs needed to tolerate the transplanted kidney.

Mrs. Jessie Canty, 28, of 280 Winchester Drive died at the University of California Medical Center of bleeding ulcers caused by the drugs, doctors said.

Last May, Mrs. Canty received the kidney of her mother, Mrs. Inez Blackman, 54, of the same address.

Both of Mrs. Canty's kidneys had been removed on account of disease.

Mrs. Canty is survived by her mother, her husband, Steven, and two children, Steven Jr., 7, and Ivy Ann, 2.

New Pacifica Asst. Manager

A new assistant city manager, James Swayne, assumed his duties Monday in Pacifica.

Swayne replaces Mel Davis, who left in December to become city manager of Sebastopol.

A graduate last month in political science from Humboldt State College in Arcata, Swayne attended the University of California at Riverside. He was born in Santa Fe, New Mexico, and has spent the past eight or ten years in California.

Swayne is 24 years old, married and lives at 945 Linda Mar Boulevard in Pacifica.

His experience in city management was gained during an internship last year with the Eureka city government.

Supervisors Mull Request On Vacancy

James V. Fitzgerald made his fellow county supervisors wince last week when he suggested that the board ask Governor Brown to make an early appointment to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Edward R. McDonald.

"I know we don't like to get into something like this," Fitzgerald said, "but we do need another supervisor."

Chairman T. Louis Chess said before the meeting that he would prefer that the board not contact the governor on the matter, respecting his prerogatives to appoint or not appoint, depending upon his evaluation of the political situation. He acknowledged, however, that the board could use some help with its work load.

Fitzgerald pointed out that if the governor waits to make an appointment until after the voters have named their choice, the appointment most likely would not be made until November. Because of the number of candidates—six so far—it is unlikely, Fitzgerald said, that one will be elected in the June primary. A majority of all

Auto Wash Application Is Withdrawn

D.C. Neighbors Had Protested

An application for a controversial use permit by John C. Smith of 243 Station Avenue, Daly City, for a coin-operated car wash at 999 Hillside Boulevard, Daly City, was withdrawn last week by the applicant at a meeting of the Daly City Planning Commission.

The application had been strongly opposed by members of the Hillside Homeowners Association and by neighbors during the past months.

Objection had been voiced because of the car wash's proximity to Colma K-6 School.

Homeowners in that area said that traffic congestion was already a problem and that a car wash would increase the problem.

Another protest was that the particular lot on which the car lot would be placed would be too well lighted and that there would be too much noise.

An application by David J. Friedenberg and Wesley A. Shields to rezone four lots located west of Sullivan Avenue between Eighty-ninth and Nineth Streets in Daly City was held for further study.

The applicants are seeking a zoning change from R-3 (multi-family) to C-1 (commercial). The rezoning would permit an office building proposed for the site to be used by a title insurance company, which, the applicants say, is interested in occupying quarters.

The commission approved a use permit to the applicants to erect the building but stipulated that the building be used for professional offices only.

In other action, the commission held over a decision on an application from Foster and Kleiser to erect a sign at 1 San Pedro Road.

Coast Civic Center Won't Be on Ballot

By BERENICE PALMER

Funds for construction of a civic center will not be included in Pacifica's April bond election.

City councilmen at last week's meeting, with the exception of Grace McCarthy, rejected the inclusion of civic center costs as a ballot measure. Three separate ballot proposals were recommended by councilmen: Purchase of beach lands, acquisition of a civic center site, and construction of senior citizen housing.

"Much as I would like to see the civic center facilities come into being," City Manager Karl Baldwin stated, "I think it would be one issue too many and endanger the other proposals."

Councilman Harland Minshew suggested that the burden of tax for the bonds should be spaced out, rather than left for taxpayers in 10 or 15 years.

Attorney Conrad Reisch informed councilmen that the resolution they had approved for bond proposals would spell out a commitment for redemption. Baldwin added that fiscal consultants would come up with a figure.

Baldwin said that the bonds would use one-fourth or one-fifth of Pacifica's $6.6-million bonding capacity. He stated that no application for government loans could be made until the bond election is successful.

Beach development and erosion control as well as a civic center building would be part of a later bond issue, he added.

In other business, Mrs. Frederick Hunt of 408 San Pablo Terrace voiced opposition to a 30-day continuance granted to the Congregation Anshe Shalom.

An appeal had been asked on the planning commission's rejection of a synagogue at 366 San Pablo Terrace.

"No amount of delay is going to make a 20-foot street any wider, or a four-room house any bigger," Mrs. Hunt stated. "We feel that the congregation has had plenty of time, and this should be reviewed without any further delay."

Ellis Leff, representing the congregation, stated that their

FEB. 17 DEADLINE

Council Hopefuls Are Slow to File

By JOHN HORGAN

North County city council candidates, vying for eight seats in three cities, thus far have been slow to file for election, First day for filing was Thursday.

The candidates have until February 17 to file their papers.

Young Han Choo of 351 Newman Drive, South San Francisco, was the only North County entrant in the city council derby to have filed his papers by yesterday.

In Pacifica two candidates had taken out nomination papers

William R. Hart of 1136 Manzanita Drive and Harlan Minshew of 1159 Barcelona Drive have announced their intention of running.

Fred Ballew has declared publicly that he will run but had not taken out papers.

Minshew and Ballew are incumbents who will be seeking re-election.

A third council seat, held by Donald McMannis, is also up for election. McMannis is expected to make public soon his intention of running.

In South San Francisco, besides Choo, four other candidates are expected to run for election to two seats.

Incumbents Andrew Rocca and Patrick Ahern have both indicated they will seek re-election. Only Rocca, however, had taken out nomination papers.

In addition, Louis Belloni of 745 Miller Avenue and Warren Steinkamp of 51 Capay Circle had taken out their papers.

In Daly City no one had filed for election to three seats but three men had taken out nomination papers: Incumbents Edward Dennis and Bernard Lycett and a newcomer to the Daly City political scene, Robert D. Sherwood of 128 St. Francis Boulevard.

Sherwood is employed as a yardmaster by the Southern Pacific Railroad in San Francisco.

Micheal DeBernardi, another incumbent, has declared his intention to run.

Three Boys Are Rescued On Cliff Face

Three young Daly City boys were rescured by police and firemen Sunday from the face of a sheer cliff behind the Geneva Drive-In Theater near the Cow Palace.

The boys, ranging in age from four to seven, had been hiking in the area of the golden West Quarry on Carter Street when they became trapped at about 2:30 p.m.

David, 6, and Dan Taska, 4, of 751 Schwerin Street, and Mickey Lazzarino, 7, of 360 Rio Verde Drive, were rescued by Capt. Ward Albee and fireman Frank Martorana of the Daly City Fire Department.

They climbed the cliff face and took the boys back to the top, one by one.

The boys told the officers that they had been hiking in the Cow Palace area and had started down the cliff.

When they got about 125-feet down, they found they could not go any further.

They then began to cry—loud-

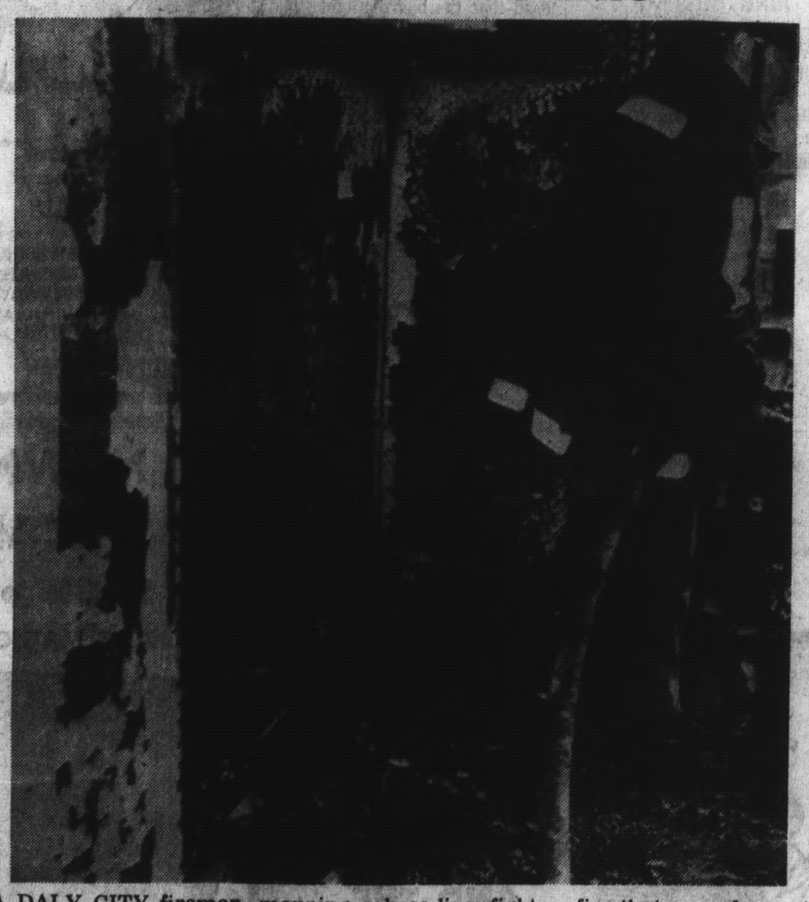
On the D.C. Fire Line



A DALY CITY fireman, manning a hose line, fights a fire that caused an estimated $10,000 damage to a luxury apartment building in Daly City. Firemen had the flames, which broke out Friday, under control within 20 minutes. A second alarm was sounded as a precaution. (Post-Times Photos)

Fire Damages Apartments

A fire, which apparently started in a bedroom of a second-story apartment and swept through a window into the apartment directly above it, caused an estimated $10,000 damage Friday in Daly City.

No one was injured in the blaze at the Palace Court Apartments at 355 Southgate Avenue in the Westlake district.

The fire was first spotted by three employes of the Daly City Water Department who were working in a pumping station near the apartments.

One of them, Fred Anderson, radioed an alarm to the fire department over the water department's radio frequency, which is the same as the fire department's.

Off-duty policeman Robert Sola also spotted smoke, ran into the building and helped alert and guide residents of the three-story structure to the street.

One woman left clutching her baby and a pet bird.

There were a number of elderly women in the apartments who left the building in an orderly fashion.

Westlake Shopping Center Has 91 Stores and Services for All Your Needs

S.S.F. Store Must Take Sign Down

White Front will have to remove one of the two signs it has installed on its grocery store, on El Camino Real at Spruce, South San Francisco's Planning Commission has ruled.

Despite having two signs already installed, the corporation's representatives last week sought a use permit to allow them.

They explained that a mixup between the owning corporations has resulted in the signs being placed without having obtained the necessary permits.

Planners, however, ruled that one sign would be enough, and decided in favor of the one facing El Camino Real.

School Districts Push Build Plans

and is scheduled to open by September of 1967.

The district also plans to build three other schools and add onto present facilities.

With the proceeds of its bond and state loan monies, the high school district will build Pengate and Serramonte High Schools and acquire the sites for two more schools in the former Crocker estate.

Thomas Noonan, chairman of the board of trustees of the Jefferson Elementary District, said a vote of thanks should be paid to a citizens' committee that worked for support of the two bond issues.

The committee was headed by Dr. Earl Herald, superintendent of the Steinhart Aquarium in Golden Gate Park. Noonan remarked:

"I think the vote only proves that the people of Daly City always have and always will support their schools."

Frank Greenwood, superintendent of the elementary district, said he was "extremely pleased" with the election outcome.

"I think a lot of credit is due the parents and teachers who worked for the bonds," he noted.

Greenwood said that only one precinct failed to give the elementary issue the needed two-thirds majority. This precinct was the Jefferson Elementary School area. Voters there cast 149 "yes" votes and 90 "no."

In many of the precincts, he said, the margins of approval greatly exceeded the average 3½ to 1 vote.

Three precincts at Christopher Columbus School voted 12 to 1 for the bonds and the Thomas Edison School area voted 9 to 1 for the issue.

"I thought the bonds would probably squeak by but I had no idea the margins would be this heavy," Greenwood said.

Elio Fontana, chairman of the board of trustees of the Jefferson High School District, summed up the bond vote this way:

"I think it's wonderful. You can't do anything but thank people around here. This gives us an excellent opportunity to continue our good education program."

Fontana emphasized that the district would continue to exercise economy in the administration of its affairs and the fact that residents had approved a total of $15.5 million in new funds would not change this.

Edward Morgan, superintendent of the high school district, termed the vote "very gratifying."

He said the voter support will "allow the board to continue an orderly program of school construction and site acquisition."

An estimated 30 per cent of the 24,000 registered voters in the elementary district turned out. In the high school district, the turnout among 38,500 registered voters was 28 per cent.

The high school bond issue rolled up heavy "yes" margins in the Pacifica area. At Terra Nova High School, the vote was 145 to 15.

At neighboring Cabrillo School, the vote was 168 to 31. The Portola Highlands area recorded a 54-9 vote.

This was the breakdown for high school bond issue by elementary districts that are included in the high school voting area:

Jefferson Elementary. 5,139 to 1,455; Laguna Salada: 1,660 to 506; Bayshore, 178 to 71, and Brisbane, 195-106.

Passage of the bond issue continues the high school district's record of never having lost a bond election.

In 1961, the last election, voters also approved an issue by a margin of about 3½ to 1.

attorney was "snowed under" and unable to prepare a case.

Councilman Don McMannis moved that the application be reconsidered at the council's next meeting as well as requests from the congregation members for a public hearing.

Attorney Reisch noted that delay would be "governed by the rule of reasonableness only."

Approval was given to the final map for Park Pacifica No. 2 with councilwoman Grace McCarthy dissenting because of its "piecemeal" presentation. She also expressed concern over the lack of recreation areas.

Mrs. Evelyn Martin of 615 Milano Way complained that school construction in Park Pacifica was "not keeping up with residential development."

She described Ortega School as "bursting at the seams. How can the city councilmen sanction more houses in this area when no schools have been started?" she asked.

Councilman Minshew brought out that this had been vigorously discussed at a recent school district and city council meeting.

He said the lag was due to a state requirement that house foundations be completed before school sites are started.

Challenge Corporation engineer Ed Maykel called it "something we have to live with" but said that two sites had already been selected for schools in Park Pacifica.

A state encroachment permit for a flashing caution light at the Hewitt Avenue and Coast Highway intersection will be requested by Pacifica. The cost would be around $2,500, according to city engineer Kenneth Thompson. (This was agreed to at the January 26 city council meeting.)

Supervisors Mull Request On Vacancy

votes cast is necessary to avoid a runoff election.

Supervisor William M. Werder sided with Chess.

"The governor is no doubt only too well aware that there is a vacancy on this board," he commented.

All six of those who have said they will run in the election have asked the governor for the interim appointment.

Fitzgerald pointed out that McDonald was not forced to resign, but only did so to clear the way for an appointment.

"He realized his responsibility," Fitzgerald declared. "He made a decision and that puts the governor on the spot to make a decision."

Supervisor Jean Fassler proposed that the board might "indicate our concern" about the vacancy to the governor. Chess suggested that this be done by phone but Werder said it should be done by letter so there would be a public record to prove that the board was not backing a particular candidate.

It was finally agreed that a letter will be sent expressing the board's concern but not coming right out and asking that an appointment be made right away.

A member of the audience, Mrs. Marcella Jacobson of Hillsborough, commented to the supervisors that although they said they wanted to take care not to "pressure" the governor, the letter was just that.

County Mayors Want Hotel Tax

a program is now under way to get between $2 and $2½ million to improve the Cow Palace. "That is a good place for a convention," Rocca maintained.

"It is hardly centrally located," Benson retorted. "The people stay in San Francisco. We get nothing out of them except police and fire department expenses. The main purpose is to bring people here. You cannot sell the county until you bring the people here."

Mayor Frank Pacelli of Daly City suggested that the mayors' organization endorse the tax without designating any site for a convention center.

Mayor Jess Salmon of Brisbane suggested that funds be allocated towards a regional park on San Bruno Mountain.

Mayor Frank Bertucelli of South San Francisco, noting that the Cow Palace was at the "gateway to the Peninsula," added, "I would like to see something in the north end of the county, not in San Mateo." He added that South San Francisco is still paying for Coyote Point while developing its own yacht harbor.

Ken Norris, executive secretary for the Governmental Research Council, touched probably the most responsive note of the evening when he said the estimated $357,000 annual revenue from the tax should not be designated for promotion but be put into the county's general fund to reduce property taxes, and then, "Let each project justify itself."

A suggestion of Councilman Micheal deBernardi of Daly City that tax revenue from the proposal be used in the area from which it comes drew fire from Benson.

County Manager E. R. Stalings pointed out the county is about to finance appointment of a convention director to promote meetings here.

"We have the facilities in this county—the various hotels, the Cow Palace and the Fair Grounds. What we don't have are the conventions."

Six fire engines and one aerial truck responded to the two alarms. The fire was extinguished within 20 mintues.

Automobile Tax Fees Explained

Joseph M. Cullen, District Director of Internal Revenue Service for Northern California has announced that certain portions of automobile registration fees are tax deductible.

Cullen explained that the Revenue Act of 1964 generally denies the deduction of taxes for auto license fees.

However, in California the total license fee, less $8 for sedans and $9 for station wagons, is a personal property tax and therefore deductible.

Cullen also mentioned another tax deduction of interest to automobile owners. The state tax on gasoline is deductible.

For 1965, the deduction must be computed on the following amounts: 7 cents per gallon except for the period beginning March 31, 1965, and ending September 1, 1965. During this period the tax amounted to 8 cents per gallon.

Trap Sprung, Two Arrested For Abortion Conspiracy

Daly City police, working closely with San Francisc ooplice and state authorities, deftly spun a trap for suspected abortionists last Wednesday and arrested two women, one a South San Francisco resident, on charges of conspiracy to commit abortion.

The suspects are Joan Marie Navarro, 27, of 19 Altura Way, South San Francisco, and Jo Ann Webb, 37, of San Francisco.

They were arrested at Capitol and Ocean Avenues in San Francisco by Capt. David Hansen and Lt. Richard Sims of the Daly City Police Department and San Francisco Police Inspectors John Cleary and Walter Kracke.

The trap was laid as a result of complications that arose from an illegal abortion performed on a woman about a month ago, according to Lt. Sims.

The woman sought aid at a hospital, told a doctor about the operation and the doctor informed police.

the woman then agreed to cooperate with police in setting the trap.

It was sprung after a woman agent in the State Department of Investigation played out the role of a woman seeking an abortion.

The act was to have taken place in a Daly City motel, Sims said.

The suspects and the state agent were en route to the motel when the arrests took place.

Also participating in the investigation was an agent from the state Department of Professional and Vocational Standards.

Thieves Get Cash, Goods At Grocery

Thieves ransacked the Budget market at 6001 Mission Street in Daly City and carted away office machines, groceries and clothes valued at a total of $525 the market owner reported to police Thursday.

Investigators said the burglars broke a skylight over the meat department to get into the building.

John F. Martinez of San Francisco, the owner, said the thieves had taken two adding machines, a check-writing machine, 100 cartons of cigarettes, blue jeans, six processed chickens, $75 in change and miscellaneous groceries.

Police theorized the thieves had been in the market for a long time because all the shelves and storage areas had been ransacked.

By LE PACINI

JACK GREALISH has pulled the social coup of the year in local athletic circles when be brought the near-legendary former Yankee pitching great, Lefty Gomez, to Daly City to help open his new sports emporium in the Skyline Plaza shopping center.

It took Gomez 14 years and a strong arm to win 189 major league games, and one evening at Grealish's to win that many fans with an agile mind which may have made Gomez the world's greatest stand-up comic had he not chosen, instead, to be the world's greatest baseball humorist.

Uncharacteristically, a personal interview with Gomez netted talk about projected plans to move back to California (to Boyes Springs, where he used to train with the Seals before he went up) and golf.

He reported that Ted Williams has now taken up the game, "and you don't hear him talk about anything else. Like Dimaggio (Joe), Ted's a perfectionist. When he decides to do something he has to be the best there is at it. That's why he became such a great hitter, such a great flyer, such a great fisherman. He could have been anything.

"Now he's concentrating on golf, and that's it. Within a year or two he may be challenging Palmer."

Gomez, naturally, plays golf for fun, and much of the conversation was about his adventures at the annual Harrah's Club golf extravaganza.

"They loaned me a brand new Bentley for the whole time I was there. Everybody was telling me I might have a hard time getting used to driving it because the dashboard looked like the inside of a missile system.

"But that isn't what bothered me. I couldn't even figure out how to open the door. I had to bum rides every day to the course.

"What I'd really like to do, though, is learn how to pilot that thing, borrow it for a day, and drive down the main street of Rodeo (where he was born, raised, and learned his baseball elementals) in it. I'd like to hear all those guys, then, talk about how I would never amount to anything."

We asked Lefty why he hasn't written a book, which would be a cinch big seller.

"For one thing," he said, "everybody's flooding the market, now with autobiographies and personal reminiscences. For another thing, I've twice been in the talking stages of a book with professional writers and in both cases they died before we got started. I don't think anybody would be willing to work with me any more."

But at a podium Gomez tells baseball stories like nobody ever heard. That night at Grealish's he went on for 45 minutes without a pause, and virtually every story was a new one, one which hadn't previously made it in public print.

Following will be just a few of those stories which we managed to commit to memory. Like all good reporters, we were without a pad or pencil. Bear in mind, when reading these stories, that Gomez, with his gravel-voiced, dead-panned delivery, is funnier in person, and you'll have a rough idea of that evening's hilarity.

WHEN LEFTY BROKE IN as a teen-ager in 1930, he was, as was the custom in those days, automatically relegated to long days in the bull pen. His only consolation was that he was one of only two left-handed pitchers on the squad, the other being the great Herb Pennock.

Lefty relates this story: "One day Pennock was pitching and I was in the bullpen, as usual, when Herb gets clobbered with a line drive right back at him which breaks through his glove's webbing and hits him on his pitching hand.

"The call immediately comes down to the bull pen to send Gomez in. So I nonchalantly hop bull pen fence, hoping I would spike myself because I'm coming into a bags loaded situation with the heart of the batting order up.

"Ray Schaulk, our pitching coach, greets me and pulls me aside to brief me on the situation, I figure. Wanting to appear alert, I interrupt him. 'I know, Ray, Bags loaded, one out, we have a one-run lead. . . .'

" 'I know what the situation is,' says Schaulk, 'just give Pennock your glove. He can't pitch with a broken web.' "

Lefty loves to tell stories about how he made Dimaggio a great outfielder by allowing him so many opportunities to chase gargantuan blows.

One of his favorites is: "One day I'm pitching and fly around the sixth or seventh inning Joe has ten putouts, none of them easy. He's playing hide and seek with the centerfield monuments, as a matter of fact, all afternoon.

"Finally, for a change, a guy hits a little Texas-leaguer over second base which I figure nobody has a chance to get, but sure enough, Joe comes tumbling in after it and makes a great catch. And then he lies still. We all rush out, expecting the worst, because if Joe goes, the pennant goes.

"When we get there, he's gasping for breath, and he says to Tony Lazzari, 'Tell . . . (gasp) McCarthy (Joe, Yankee manager) to . . . (gasp) get . . . Gomez . . . (gasp) . . . the hell . . . out (gasp) of there . . . (gasp) before 5 . . . (gasp) collapse.' "

SOME OF GOMEZ'S FAVORITE STORIES revolve around the season he managed the Yankee farm club, Binghamton.

"We had this catcher who couldn't remember names, only numbers. So, one day a guy slides into home and misses the plate but my catcher doesn't realize it. The runner is back on the bench before my catcher figures out that he couldn't possibly have hit the plate by sliding near the batter's circle.

"So now he has a problem. With everybody on the bench, the numbers are hidden, and he has no idea of why the guy is. So to make sure, he goes running down the opposing dugout tagging everybody in sight.

"In the meanwhile, the guy who had missed home is sitting at the end of the bench figuring he'd better do something before my catcher with the photographic memory gets to him. So he runs out the other end of the dugout and heads for home.

"Meantime, my first baseman, Dick Kryhowski, has alertly run in to cover home, and the catcher whips it to him. All Dick has to do now is tag the plate, but what he does is get the runner in a rundown. So now we have the only rundown between home plate and the dugout in the history of baseball.

"They got him though, and ironically, it was the best rundown Kryhowski pulled all season.

S.S.F. Captures NPL Lead

The South San Francisco High School Warriors are in the North Peninsula League's driver seat today on the basis of two lopsided victories last week.

South S.F. swamped its two toughest foes, Jefferson and El Camino, to vault into first place in the NPL with a perfect 5-0 record.

The Colts bowed Friday night, 74-45, and Jefferson took it on the chin, 79-61, last Wednesday.

The Colts were determined to make the Warriors battle for every point Friday as Coach Warren Hagberg's troops effectively combined a man-to-man defense with a zone to shut off the Warrior's high scoring forward combo of Jim Henry and Greg Jones.

Jones was limited to three free throws in the first half and Henry was able to gather only four fielders from the floor.

The other Warriors had difficulty finding the shootign range from outside and big Rich Swain and the Jolly Green Giant Ed Green were able to control the boards at both ends of the court preventing South S.F. from displaying its powerfull fast break.

The El Camino team left the court trailing 27-21.

Diminutive Larry Alsterlind hit a quick bucket to start the Warriors rolling and then passed off to Jones and Kevin Pickett on sparkling feeds to widen the Warrior lead to 14 points going into the fourth quarter.

Altserlind was credited with 13 assists for his night's work. The Industrial City Five put the clincher on in the final stanza outscoring their cross-town rivals 24-9.

Wednesday, Jones and Henry combined for 49 points in crushing Jeff.

Hitting for 15 points between them, the pair of Warrior frontliners led S.S.F. to an insurmountable 60-46 bulge at the close of the quarter that Bill Purcell's crew simply nursed for the rest of the contest.

But Jeff gave the visitors all they could handle during the first two quarters.

With Tom Pritchard, Willie Redmond, Dan Cafferetta and Pete Barry all hitting on the Indian fast break and from the outside, the home five closed to within two at end of the half a 36-34.

At one point in the first frame Jefferson led by two points on three straight 20-foot set shots from the far left corner by Pritchard, but that was as close as the Indians were to come.

South San Francisco, which is now 10-2 on the entire season, had just too much height and offensive board strength for its host.

And then there was Alsterlind, a new item in Purcell's growing bag of cage tricks.

A junior, the 5-10 guard started his first varsity game and teamed well with steady John Moro to give the Warriors a pair of good playmakers to feed the three S.S.F. front-courters.

At one stage in the second half Alsterlind dished off for three quick buckets on eye-popping passes that left the opposition dazed and helpless.

"We intended to bring him (Alsterlind) along slowly," said Purcell after the game, "but we didn't really expect him to mature so fast. We felt that this game was the one to use him in. He was really loose out there."

Purcell also credited the hard defensive work of Jones and Redmond in the second half that limited the Indians' top scorer to only six markers in that space of time.

Rebound Battle

Schedule Is Altered This Week

In a somewhat confusing turnabout by officials of the North Peninsula League, NPL basketball teams played games yesterday and will play tomorrow and next Tuesday afternoon.

This new schedule is a divergence from the usual Wednesday-Friday setpup.

But no matter when the NPL clubs play, it's still the same old story: catch South San Francisco High School.

The Warriors, now 11-2 on the year (as of last Friday night) and 5-0 in league play, journey to Westmoor tomorrow afternoon and then host last-place Half Moon Bay, Tuesday.

In other action, El Camino, given rude jolts by both Westmoor and the Warriors last week, travels to Terra Nova tomorrow and rests with a bye date Tuesday.

Second-place Jefferson (and the only five with another good shot at SSF, provided the Indians got by EC yesterday in South San Francisco) is at Oceana tomorrow and at Westmoor Tuesday.

In the schedule's final game of the week, Terra Nova is at Oceana Tuesday, for a resumption of their intra-city feud with the Sharks.

All games start at 3:15 p.m.

But catching South S.F. is becoming more of a problem with each passing round of play.

Bill Purcell's outfit, the highest scoring team in San Mateo County now, is averaging a blistering 76 points per game in the NPL.

The Warriors are giving up a paltry 49 points per game on defense to give them an outstanding winning margin of over 27 digits per NPL tilt.

Combine those team figures with the Warriors' individual stats and the picture becomes even darker for their opponents.

Jim Henry leads the NPL with a total of 110 points for a 22.0 average.

Westmoor Knocks EC Out of 1st

Who said that the Westmoor High School basketballers are dead?

The Ram cagers came out of the depths of the North Peninsula League's lower division last week to stun previously undefeated El Camino, 55-46, on the winner's hardwoods.

Outscoring the Colts in the second and third frames, coach Tony Giamonna's charges staved off a last quarter rally by Camino for the Rams' second victory in five trips postward.

"It was the first time since Christmas that we have looked like a ball club," said the happy Giamonna following the game.

"If we could play like this every game, we could give any club in the league a good game," he added.

Over on the other side of the court, Camino mentor Warren Hagberg was disconsolate over the loss.

"We were flat and showed a lousy output," he stated. "However, you can't take anything away from Westmoor. They forced us into many mistakes and turn-overs," Hagberg added.

TN Tigers Move Into 4th Place

Terra Nova High School evened its North Peninsula League basketball record at 3-3 last week with a win and a loss and moved into fourth place in the seven-team league.

Last Friday, the Tigers fell to Jefferson, 60-47. Earlier in the week, they crushed Half Moon Bay, 88-40.

Friday's game marked the fourth win against one loss for Jefferson and the third loss in six games for the Tigers.

Though the score indicates a runaway by Jefferson, it was quite the opposite. The Tigers scrapped hard all the way until the final buzzer.

The Indians' first scare came in the third quarter after an easy but fast first and second period in which the Redskins led 12-8 and 27-21.

Jefferson had a comfortable lead at the beginning of the third period, but Terra Nova, with senior guard Mike Deurloo showing the way, tied it up, 33-33.

A see-saw battle commenced after that. But Jeff soon regained a commanding lead when the Indians hit for 11 consecutive points to make it 47-36. But Jeff took the third quarter lead, 47-40 then outscored the Tigers', 13-7, in the last quarter. Terra Nova took the floor and immediately applied a full press which seemed to throw HMB into a panic. Tiger Coach Rich Burt was able to insert his reserves in the second quarter and play his junior varsity for most of the final period.

A hustling defense proved to be the unmaking of the Cougars as TN, besides rattling the former with a pressing defense, controlled the boards the entire contest.

With Deurloo hitting from all angles, the winners walked off the court at intermission with a 42-24 lead.

In six seasons at West Virginia Coach Fred Schaus of the Los Angeles Lakers won six Southern Conference titles. Two of his stars were Rod Hundley and Jerry West.

'Athlete of the Year'

TOM TESHARA, athletic director of the St. Veronica's Men's Club, presents South San Francisco High School senior football great Greg Jones with the club's Athlete of the Year award. Jones will receive the honor Monday night at 7, at the club's annual dinner.

MEN'S CLUB AWARD

Jones Is Named 'Athlete of Year'

South San Francisco High School's Greg Jones, the most heralded athlete in the history of the school, has won still another honor.

The St. Veronica's Men's Club has named Jones "Athlete of the Year" for the second year in a row.

The honor marks the first award to the same athlete two straight years.

Among Jones' accomplishments this year include: membership in the Northern California Prep Hall of Fame; a berth on the Scholastic Magazine All-American football team; selection by Metropolitan sports writers as Northern California Back of the year in San Mateo County; a berth on the Parade Magazine All-American team; and selection as the North Peninsula League's Player of the Year for two straight years.

Tom Teshara, athletic director of the club, announced that the presentation of the award will be made at the club's annual installation dinner on Monday night at 7 in the St. Veronica School cafeteria.

Guests include Doug Scovil, head football coach at University of Pacific; Cliff Giffen, football coach at the College of San Mateo; and other North County personalities.

Oceana Gets By Cougars For 1st Win

There was cause for great jubilation at Oceana High School Friday: the Sharks finally won a North Peninsula League basketball game.

Rich Warne's crew edged past last place Half Moon Bay, 56-32, for its first win of the league season.

Five quick points by Half Moon Bay's Ted Gaines gave the Cougars a 5-2 lead, but from there on it was all Oceana's game.

Steve Buckley slipped in a two-pointer and two free throws to tie the game, and Tim Sershen hit a field goal that gave Oceana a lead it never relinquished.

At the end of the first quarter, Oceana led 11-5, and they continued to pad their lead behind high point man Tim Sershen—who had 16 points—and led 25-16 at half-time.

Except for Ted Gaines, Half Moon Bay's high point man with 15, the Cougars had trouble finding the hoop.

The third quarter showed Oceana's best output to date, as they outscored their opponents by 13 points, 19-6. Sershen left the game for a sub, mid-way in the third period.

"We shot better than we have in the past," commented Shark Coach Warne, "It was a real good game."

Warne added that he was especially impressed with the playing of his two soph regulars, Sershen and Jim McCoy.

Warren substituted freely during the final quarter as Oceana added to their lead. The secondary Sharks were too much for the Cougars as they ran up 12 points in the final quarter.

Half Moon Bay Coach Chuck Short was not happy but was pleased with the way his team hustled.

"We got out shots, but we had trouble finding the basket." Short added that "too many mistakes also hampered the Cougars.

Del Insko led the harness drivers at Yonkers, N.Y., during 1965 with 79 victories in 558 starts.

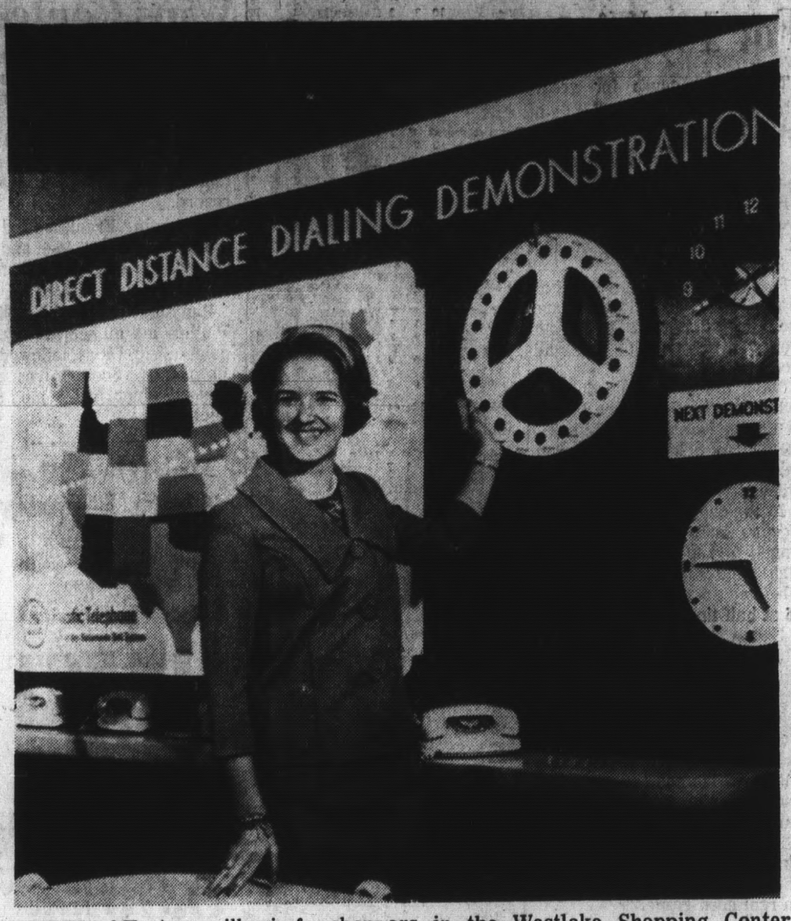
An 'Extra' for Shoppers



A WHEEL of Fortune will spin for shoppers in the Westlake Shopping Center February 9 through 12 when the Pacific Telephone Company offers free demonstration phone calls to any location in the continental United States. Suzanne Murphy shows the ehibit that will be on hand in the Westlake Mall for the special pre-Valentine's Day center promotion.

Long Distance Free!

Phone Exhibit Set for Center Shoppers

VISITORS TO the Westlake Shopping Center next week will have a unique free opportunity: a chance to talk via telephone to anyone at any location in the United States.

Pacific Telephone will set up its mammoth Scientific Trailer on the center mall from February 9 through 12 during the centers "Sweetheart Days," a salute to Valentine's Day.

Beginning next Wednesday and continuing through Saturday, the Pacific Telephone Trailer will feature phone marvels of the past present and future. And on the hour, every hour, a Westlake shopper will win a free demonstration call to anyone, anywhere in the 50 states.

Theme of the Shopping Center festivities will be "Sweetheart Days," a salute to Valentine's Day, which falls on Monday, February 15.

THE TRAILER TOUR will start with a peek into the past—replicas of antique telephones dating back to Alexander Graham Bells first invention and continuing on to present and future phones such as push button calling and Telestar, the communicatios satelie.

A glimpse of the future—the picture-phone and the optical maser—also will be included. The maser is an experimental method of carrying all types of communications by a single light beam.

Trailer tours will be conducted daily. Handling the exhibit and "wheel of fortune" free calls will be Pacific Telephone's Public Relations representatives — Dana Murphy, Tina Drescher, Jo Sicking and Suzanne Murphy.

COAST FIREMEN KEPT BUSY

A Drill, A Prank, A Fire

Pacifica firemen were just completing a rescue drill on the old Coast Highway north of Pacific Manor Thursday afternoon when things began to happen.

A rescue squad had just hauled the last man up from the bottom of a cliff when an alarm came in from 176 Linda Mar Boulevard. Firemen quickly pulled up a rope from the cliff and took off.

No sooner had fire trucks arrived at the scene, only to determine the call was false alarm turned in as a prank, when a report was received of a fire at 324 Heathcliff Drive.

A clothes dryer at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Elayda had touched off fumes coming from the gas tank of a car parked in the garage. Firemen said the back of the auto and the wall of the garage were damaged to the extent of $300.

AND CHURCH ACTIVITIES OF DALY CITY, COLMA, PACIFICA AND SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

Planning a New Church

Presbyterians Will Present Organ Recital

The Trinity Presbyterian Church at 3261 Twenty-Third Street will present in recital R. Jay Williamson on Sunday afternoon, February 13, at 4 p.m.

He is presently an organist at St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Daly City.

Williamson is an artist of promise and has studied with Dr. Alexander McCurdy in Philadelphia, attended Westminster Choir College at Princeton, New Jersey and is presently studying with Richard Purvis, organist at Grace Cathedral.

The recital will offer a varied program of organ works including music by Vierne, Bach, Karg-Elert, Purvis and others.

The selections chosen will use Trinity's organ to full advantage as it was designed originally for this type of music.

Trinity's organ was constructed for the church at the turn of the century by Felix F. Schoenstein and after a fire in 1925 was rebuilt under the supervision of Euda Waldrip, the official city organist, who played the rededication recital.

The organ has been partially restored after years of neglect and sounds much as it did when new.

Baptist Church Sets Study Hour

Tonight at 7:45, the prayer and Bible study hour of the Westside Baptist Church meets at the church parsonage at 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno. Pastor Donnelly is leading in a study of eschatology, dealing with the topics of "Rewards and the Marriage Supper of the Lamb."

Tomorrow at 9:30 a.m., the women's Bible class meets at the home of Mrs. Clayton Anderson, of 3691 Exeter Drive, San Bruno, with Mrs. Robert Anderson as the teacher.

CONTRACT SIGNED

Wesley Methodist Plans New Church

Last Wednesday evening officers of Wesley Methodist Church of Daly City signed an $80,000 contract with Refvem Construction Company of Burlingame for the construction of the first unit of the projected $250,000 church plant on a one-acre site at 1474 Southgate Avenue near St. Francis boulevard in Westlake.

The 5,000 square foot first unit will provide a large worship and meeting room, four classrooms, kitchen, office, and pastor's study.

Construction began last Monday, and should be completed in five or six months.

In the meantime, the church will continue to meet for Sunday School at 10 a.m. and worship at 11 a.m. in Thomas edison school, 1255 Southgage Avenue near Northaven Drive.

The building was designed by architect Robert Batchelor of San Francisco, under the direction of the Building Committee.

Serving on the committee are Robert Abbott, Newton Anderson, James Booher, Mrs. James Booher, James Kelley, William McGlaughlin, Roger Murray, Mrs. Max Pena, and the pastor, Clifford Droke.

Information for the church's program is available at the church office, now located in the pastor's home at 272 Blehaven avenue.

Congregation B'nai Israel To Host Jewish Speaker

The Congregation of B'nai Israel will present a guest speaker at 8:15 p.m. Friday.

Zvi H. Gilon, a lieutenant commander in the Jewish National Navy, will speak on behalf of the Jewish Nation Fund.

Born in Germany, Lt. Gilon was orphaned at an early age and spent his early years at a Jewish country school near Berlin.

At the age of 14, when the school was destroyed, he led a small group of children to safety.

Just prior to the outbreak of World War II, he and his sister went to Israel with the help of Youth Ayilah International Youth Guidance Rehabilitation Organization), responsible for the saving of more than 100,000 children from 72 countries.

After completion of his formal education, he volunteered for war service with the British Royal Navy, one of the few Jewish men to do so.

He saw action in the Mediterranean theater of the war. Upon his return and just prior to Israel becoming a state, he joined a para-military organization.

A Fair Choice For the Voters

THE RESIGNATION of San Mateo County Supervisor Edward R. McDonald after nearly a quarter of a century of outstanding service creates a political situation of exceptional interest to all of the county.

It is expected that there will be a number of candidates for the position which Mr. McDonald has so ably held. If the Governor should appoint any one of them supervisor for an interim period, the appointed candidate would enjoy the very favorable position of an incumbent on the June 7 primary election ballot.

Since Mr. McDonald's resignation is effective March 1 and the election is June 7, there is only a period of a little over three months in the interim period before the people will make their own choice.

WHAT MAKES the situation especially interesting is the fact that the new supervisor, whoever he may be, will not necessarily be elected at the primary election — there is always the possibility that no candidate will receive a majority at this election and that a run-off may have to be scheduled at the general election November 8. In either case, the elected candidate would not be sworn in office until January 3, 1967.

Therefore, there are several factors affecting an appointment by the governor. If he should make such an appointment it is a possibility his then incumbent appointee might win; but there is also an equal possibility that his appointee might be a "lame duck" for the remainder of the present term, until 1967.

This is a situation that poses difficulty for the Governor and also includes the clear risk that the county might have, for a considerable time, a supervisor who was not the choice of the voters.

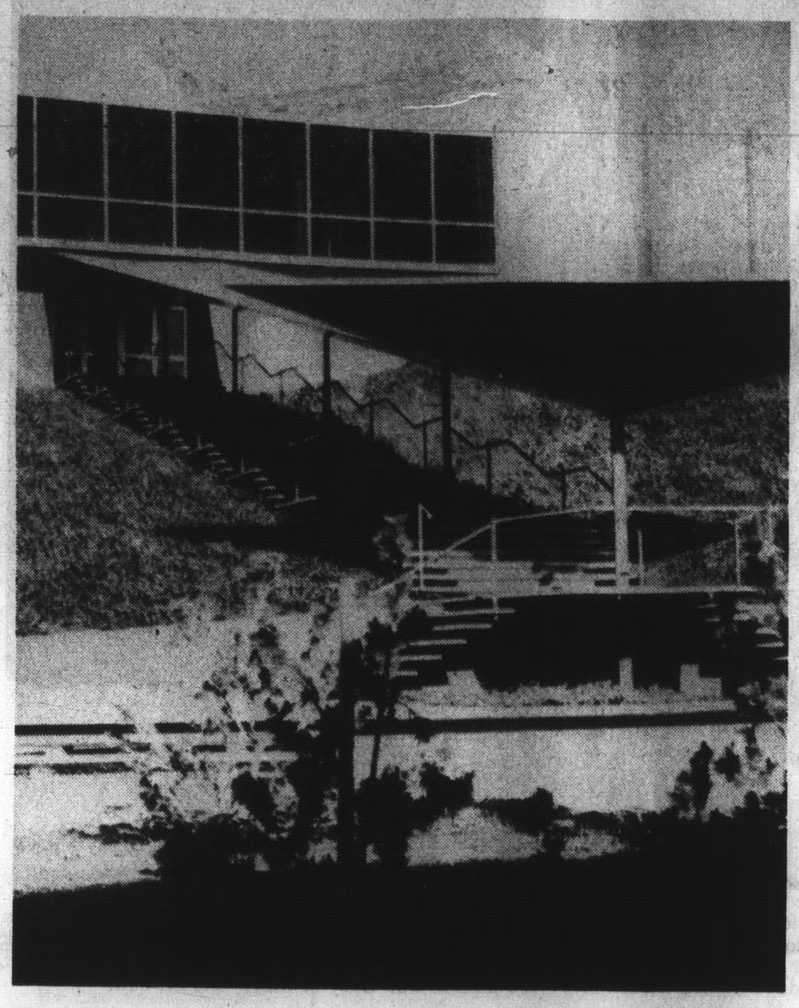
Under these circumstances it could well be to the interests of a fair choice by the people that the vacated position be left vacant pending a decisive election in June or, less likely, in November. In either case, the Governor could then appoint the winning candidate for the remainder of Mr. McDonald's unexpired term.

THERE IS NO particular danger attached to having a vacancy on the board of supervisors during an interim period.

Mr. McDonald has not been able to participate in sessions of county government for several months and this has in no way hampered or damaged the conduct of the county government by the remaining four supervisors. Without doubt, they could function effectively with a vacancy on the board.

The principle at stake is that there should be a fair choice by the voters without any candidate having a political advantage growing from a temporary incumbency.

Oceana High School



OCEANA HIGH SCHOOL in Pacifica opened its doors for the first time in September of 1962 and welcomed an enrollment of 632 pupils. Today, 1,070 are enrolled. Ultimately, with the completion of a second addition, the school will be able to house 2,000 students. A first addition was completed last year, bringing the school's designed capacity up to 1,574 students. Oceana's only principal has been Ernest Ribera. The school originally had been scheduled to open before neighboring Terra Nova but opened a year later instead.

The Pessimism Was Unfounded

Don Miller

THAT SCHOOL bond election here in the North County last week still has people talking. Not so much about the fact that the bond issues passed as the margin they passed by.

The educated guess in most quarters was that if the bond passed—and that was a mighty big "if"—the margin would be razor thin. That's because everybody thought everybody else was still riled up about the county's reassessment program last year and the higher tax bite it produced.

It wasn't going to make any difference to these riled up folks that passage of the school bonds wouldn't mean a boost in their school tax. They just weren't about to go out and vote for anything that had anything to do with taxes. Period!

Well, as we all found out, the pessimism was unfounded. When it came to the business of facing facts, the North County faced them squarely and decided by that convincing 3½ to 1 vote that the facts meant bond monies for new school construction were needed and needed now.

THE BOND VOTE, by the way, was tabulated in the board room of the Jefferson Elementary District on Lincoln Boulevard in Daly City and there probably will be no more impressive gathering of top school brass the rest of this year than the assemblage that night.

The mob included almost all the trustees of both districts as well as the higher echelon of both administrations. At the outset, because of the aforementioned pessimism, the chatter had a kind of a forced ring of confidence to it.

But it didn't take long for the ring to become natural. Frank Greenwood, the elementary district's superintendent, recalls that the "yes" trend in the voting showed up early and that "by the time the third precinct called in, it (the trend) looked like it was taking off like a rocket."

One of the key districts everybody was watching was the area around Little Jeff—or Jefferson Elementary School in Daly City, if you want to be formal about it.

This is a district with a heavy proportion of older residents who do not have children in school and, in some cases, who are retired and on pension. If anybody was going to vote against the bonds, the expectation was that it would be these folks.

Yet, Little Jeff came in with a big 145 to 90 "yes" vote and although the margin wasn't quite enough for the required two-thirds majority, it was enough to convince the crowd at vote-tabulating headquarters that the bonds were going to make it on a district-wide basis, where the percentage of homes with children was higher.

Tom Noonan, chairman of the elementary board, probably summed it up best when he remarked the next day:

"I think everyone was very pleasantly surprised."

SOMEBODY'S WATCHING over me department: Sgt. Bob Stables of the Daly City Police Department, an old hand at responding to scenes of drama and family tragedy, was involved in a drama that came far too close to home the other day. In fact, it was at home.

His four-year-old daughter, Laurie, watching neighborhood youngsters slide down a pole from a second floor balcony behind the apartments he and his family live in, decided that looked like great sport.

So she clambered up for the big slide herself and kept right on going over the balcony—sans the pole—and fell 20 feet to the pavement below.

A neighbor reported he heard a kind of sickening thud and saw Laurie get up from the sidewalk, take two steps and collapse. The youngster was rushed to Marys Help Hospital but after a most thorough of thorough examinations, the only thing result of the tumble doctors could find was a bruised chin.

Laurie apparently had landed flat, dab on her tummy and just had the wind knocked out of her. "The only time she cried," Stables recalled, "was when those men in the white coats came. She knew then she had to go someplace."

CIVIC PRIDE is great stuff, and all that, but it has its budgetary limitations, Pacifica's city fathers reluctantly agreed last week.

Their decision to take one giant, capital improvement step at a time instead of a budget-busting jump shows that fiscal responsibility is highly thought of on the coast. There probably isn't anybody in Pacifica these days—the sentimentalists, notwithstanding — who wouldn't like to see city government flee that old school house city hall and move into a modern, new civic center complex.

But in Pacifica, it's a case of first things first and the first thing these days is the shoreline. Beach erosion has become an insistent monster on Pacifica's back and she's determined to throw the monster off and back into the sea.

That's why a bond issue to stop erosion and develop the shoreline makes more sense to Pacificans today than a new civic center. An old house they can do with a while longer. A cumbling house they cannot.

WE STILL don't know how he did it but Elio Fontana, the chairman of the Jeff High School District Board of Trustees, kept a largely straight face the other night when he tried to argue dispassionately that Italian should be taught at Jefferson High School next September.

His proposal was triggered by the results of a survey of parents that disclosed that the parents would like to see added to the school curriculum. Spanish and French are taught now.

Fontana ultimately conceded that he was probably being "a little selfish about it—it will involve me personally."

Nonetheless, a survey is a survey and Jeff's parents have spoken. Now, as District Supt. Ed Morgan sagely observed, it remains to be seen if the kids agree with their parents and sign up for Italian after all.

Better Business

The Reasons For Bankruptcy Rise

Lorene Beasley

ONE OF THE major problems facing the business world of today is the mounting number of consumer bankruptcies. In 1965, 155,209 individuals chose the course of bankruptcy whereby most of their debts were wiped out.

What is the reason for the increasing number of bankruptcies in a country that is enjoying the greatest prosperity of any country in history?

A manager of one of the largest mail order and retail stores in the country recently outlined the five practices that he thought tended to encourage people to go into bankruptcy. They were:

(1) OBTAINING bankruptcy discharge is too easy.

Most people file under the Chapter 13 of the Bankruptcy Act which permits them to pay off their debts without worrying about attachments.

The person not in business risks little in filing a petition for bankruptcy. Business bankruptcy filings are less than 10 per cent of the total filings in the Bay and Peninsula area.

Most of the firms filing for bankruptcy seek to file under a reorganization plan that permits their creditors to recover as much as possible.

(2) CREDITORS influence debtors to take bankruptcy on other accounts, with unlawful arrangement for reaffirmation of the account with them.

This is a common practice of some retailers, loan agencies and credit unions that have no real interest in the debtor's affairs other than that the debtor going into bankruptcy will discharge the bulk of his obligations—thereby making it easier for him to pay the account in question.

(3) RETAILERS, lenders and others encourage bankruptcy action by the removal of the bankruptcy stigma.

Lynn J. Gillard, San Francisco's bankruptcy referee says: "There should be no reason why persons should feel guilty. The bankruptcy laws are a welfare provision to help them out of their predicament." He further stated: "It is a complex situation whereby our expanding economy and the need for easy credit pushes a person toward bankruptcy, especially if he is inexperienced in economic affairs. The number of people who take advantage of the bankruptcy laws to beat their creditors is extremely small."

However, it is the common practice of many unethical used car dealers and loan companies to use advertising to entice recent bankrupts to apply for credit.

Such debtors, when pressed for payment, oftentimes use threats that they will take out bankruptcy again as they feel that after reading such advertisements, it is an easy matter to re-establish credit after bankruptcy proceedings.

(4) EMPLOYERS contribute to bankruptcy filings.

Gillard believes that salary attachments trigger the filing of bankruptcy papers. In 1964, 6,251 cases were filed in New York state — where salaries cannot be attached—in comparison to California's 29,651 bankruptcy cases. In California, salaries can be attached.

Often a defaulting debtor files a voluntary petition in bankruptcy because his employer had told him he would be discharged if any more garnishment actions were received.

Some union contracts include the provision that garnishment action is cause for dismissal from a job.

(5) SOLICITATION of bankruptcy by "arrangements."

This type of solicitation, or fostering of bankruptcy business, is in actuality a service to the solicitor of the business and is not a service to the debtor nor to the administration of justice.

For example, a debt consolidation firm, after charging a fee over a period of time, advises the debtor that his debts cannot be successfully consolidated.

Bankruptcy is recommended and the client is introduced to an attorney who files a pauper's petition. The attorney makes arrangements for his fee to be financed by a particular finance company. Is this a form of collusion?

Better Business Bureau reminds anyone considering wiping out their personal debts by the Bankruptcy Act that there are many job and credit applications that still ask the question, "Were you ever a bankrupt?"

Idealism And 'Playground'

Barbara Bladen

FILMMAKERS are idealists. Not all of them are wealthy. Richard Hilliard is just such a man. All his hopes and dreams hinge on the success of his latest film, "The Playground," which opened at the Larkin Theatre.

He found the offbeat book four years ago and took one and a half years more to film it. "It deals in paradoxes, more like Brecht and "Waiting For Godot." Audiences either love it or hate it. There is no middle ground."

The director-producer asks his audiences to be drawn into the satire which has been described as "flippantly philosophical" and supply their own interpretation. "It's an open end story. Satire, comedy, tragedy are put side by side. If they're unprepared to commit themselves, they won't swing with it."

A GRADUATE of Princeton University, he started doing films as an undergraduate. "Now they all are filmmakers," he notes.

After service with the Army, Hilliard became business manager of a small electronic's firm. He bought stocks on a gamble, it paid off, and he immediately invested his money in himself as a filmmaker.

"My trouble was in having too much taste. I made murder mysteries that were so subtle, the audiences lost interest. Now I know they like to be hit over the head. Most successful horror movies are blatantly bad."

So he finds himself in a category which is neither commercial or avant garde. He claims there are ten filmmakers of his calibre and length of experience who are ready to make the big plunge into the competitive field. As a newcomer to the feature length film circle, he likens "The Playground" with pictures like "The Knack" and "The Leather Boys." Only they had bigger budgets.

THE SAN FRANCISCO Film Festival was the first to recognize its entertainment value. All of his life's savings are tied up in the wild satire which has only played one other city: New York during the newspaper strike!

"I'm a little bitter about how the public eats up foreign films and bypasses American products by unknown directors with no big name stars. Even the Ford Foundation program helps experimental directors and brands me as being too commercial. Where does the line begin and end?"

He took a sideswipe at the movie critics in remarking that "they've been trapped into thinking the art films have to look like art films, dark, moody, fast cuts with the camera, minimum of dialogue. What they credit underground filmmakers for in their bold, expressions of technique is nothing more than what was done 30 years ago by D. W. Griffith and Serge Iesenstein. Those men did everything that's being done today except dissolve shots. And that's only because they didn't have the equipment."

"I have an unusual story filmed in a deliberately conservative technique. "The Knack" had an ordinary story and unusual technique. "Help" had no story and far-out technique."

But it all boils down to whether it's entertaining or not. That's the only judge of a good film. And we found "The Playground" fascinating.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

Jehovah's Witnesses would like to thank you for your coverage of our recent circuit assembly at the Scottish Rite Auditorium in San Francisco. This contributed greatly to the success of our conference.

You will be pleased to know that more than 1,600 persons were on hand to hear our principal speaker, Arden B. Stutler, deliver the public Bible lecture, "What Does the Resurrection of the Dead Mean for You and Yours?"

We look forward to future happy relationships with you.

Jehovahs Witnesses,
California Circuit No. 13.

TO THE EDITOR:

I vehemently protest the adulteration of our foods. It constitutes a fraud on our pockets, and is harmful to our health.

Preservatives are added to foods that are too stale to be wholesome otherwise.

In 1939, milk containing preservatives were not permitted. Now, it practically permeates all of our foods.

I appeal to the Board of Health, and to the Food and Drugs Administration to put a stop to the use of these questionable additives that are adulterating our foods.

Have not our own government laboratories proven that they induce cancer?

Let the markets sell us fresh foods daily. Most all of us have refrigeration to help keep food longer.

The quantity of preservatives contained in such abundance of foods, over a certain period of time, can cause various serious health disturbances — both mentally and physically — as would a drug that is used in overdosage.

If we cannot look to our government, our Food and Drug Administration, and our Department of Health for protection from food contamination, we will soon become a nation of the living dead.

'Rigoletto' Is Still Modern

Samuel Chandler

ALTHOUGH it was written 115 years ago, the opera, "Rigoletto," by Giuseppe Verdi seems as modern as the latest best-seller or downtown movie. It is a psychological thriller with hidden meanings and dark motives.

Some of the characters are as immortal and confused as those created by Lawrence Durrell, Irving Wallace or Vladimir Nabakov.

Frances Toye calls it a magnificent study in conflicting emotions. Certain German critics have judged it a musico-dramatic masterwork. Herbert Weinstock writes that recent critical opinion affirms that Verdi—because of his operas—belongs with Mozart, Gluck, Wagner and others among the foremost creators of musical drama.

Yet, the heavy hand of a censor nearly killed Rigoletto before its first performance. In its original form, the opera was based on Victor Hugo's play, "Le Roi s'amuse," a lusty tale of intrigue with King Francis I of France as the villain. The title was "La Maledizione," which means "the curse."

THE CENSORS, working for the Austrian rulers of Venice, struck so hard Verdi cried: "The decree banning 'La Maledizione' almost makes me lose my mind."

The censors had two objections. Both seem quaint to us. They disliked the unflattering portrayal of royalty and the portrayal of a hunchback in a king's court.

Verdi was so angry that he wrote: "The displeasure and damage I suffer from this ban are greater than I have words to tell." But he refused to back down.

Carefully he explained that he was attempting an artistic feat of winning the audience's sympathy for an evil, deformed man whose only virtue was his love for his daughter.

THE CENSORS, however, cared nothing for artistry. The ban remained. Verdi protested, "I don't understand such reasoning." Singers and artists joined him in a public clamor that finally led a police commissioner to propose a change in the locale and time of the opera.

The setting shifted to 16th century Italy. The royal libertine was downgraded to a duke whose name in history was already black. The hunchback was rechristened Rigoletto, and the entire opera was given his name.

Within ten years "Rigoletto" had become part of the standard repertoire in every opera house in the world. The best known aria, "La donna e' mobile," was carried to the world first by stage hands who heard the dress rehearsal — then by the millions of theatergoers who have heard countless tenors make it the crowning climax of the whole opera.

AS FOR THE censors, 15 years after their "battle for king and country," they were packed up and shipped back to Austria as Venice joined the kingdom of Italy.

It is hoped they lived out their lives listening to the citizens of Vienna whistle "La donna" and the other areas from "Rigoletto," that became some of the most popular songs of that fair city. As James Russel Lowell once penned:

"All the critics on earth cannot crush with their ban one word that's in tune with the nature of man."

By LOUANNE HEATH

GRACEFUL INTERLUDE will become a reality this Saturday afternoon and the nearness of THE BIG DAY explains all the hustle and bustle being exhibited by the ladies of The Our Lady of Mercy parish.

Last minute chores, and the general need for break-neck speed when tending to the many little jobs which must be done, forced the Westlake Catholic Womens' publicity chairman, Mrs. Phillip Glebow, to bolt down a dry bologna sandwich and a warm coke while driving, pall mall, from one errand to another last week.

Not only Mrs. Glebow, but all the members of the fashion show executive committee along with the models and the hostesses are showing signs of the whirling dervish syndrome—common among busy club women during periods of intense activity.

Hurriedly sandwiching in a few hours to tend to wardrobe preparations are the gracious ladies who will be serving as hostesses in the Grand Ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel on Saturday. Among those who will be offering a warm smile of welcome to the guests are Mrs. Foster Jones, Mrs. John McKenna, Mrs. Raymond Murphy, Mrs. Howard Poblitz, Mrs. Richard Locke, Mrs. Frank Burns, Mrs. Phillip Fraher, Mrs. Harold Major, Mrs. Robert Bianchi and Mrs. Bruno Columbini.

Mrs. James Diggins is also in the contingent of hostesses as are: Mrs. George Drakulich, Mrs. Richard Dwyer, Mrs. Thomas Gill, Mrs. Richard Herman, Mrs. Francis Kelly, Mrs. Donald McNab, Mrs. Paul Neagle, Mrs. James Pidgeon, Mrs. Jack Rose, Mrs. Martin Ruane, Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. Vincent Baldocchi, Mrs. Elwin Short, Mrs. Richard Hoedt, Mrs. Stanley Norwicki, Mrs. Rodney Hamblin, Mrs. Laurence McCaffrey, Mrs. Robert Martini and Mrs. William Murray.

IF YOU WAITED until too late to attend the Westlake Catholic Women fashion show and you still have a longing for a preview look at the styles we will be wearing in the spring, or, if you have attended a few of this season's shows and you still aren't sure of what line to follow when you begin acquiring your own spring wardrobe, don't miss the very excellent luncheon and fashion show, "Discover America in Style," being presented at the Sheridan Thunderbolt in Millbrae on February 19.

This annual gala is a fashion extravaganza presented by the Women's Guild of the Holy Angels parish. And, if you sometimes feel a little guilty about indulging in something as wholy femenine and beyond the pale of male comprehension as a fashion show luncheon, it is rather soothing to know that the proceeds all go to a worthy cause.

MRS. GEORGE SEGIGIE and Mrs. Henry Norman are the chairmen of the rummage sale being planned for March 9 by the Holy Angels Women's Guild.

Mrs. Marty Sugrue, publicity chairman, reports that collection of rummage has already begun and usable clothing, appliances and bric-a-brac may be left at 84 Hill Street each Saturday between 10 a.m. and 12 noon.

THE AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY, Daly City Auxiliary, has issued a plea for volunteer drivers to assist with the transporting of patients to and from doctor appointments.

The volunteers will be assigned one patient and will be responsible for taking him or her to treatments on a weekly or daily basis, according to the needs of the person or the amount of time the volunteer has to devote to this task

According to Mrs. Roy Tierney, publicity chairman for the auxiliary, anyone wishing to help with the transportation division may volunteer by calling Mrs John Leonard, PL 6-4189, or if anyone is interested in assisting the auxiliary with any of its other many projects, they may contact Mrs. Louis Giusti, Wy 2-0628, for more information.

Mrs. Alberta Fifer, was welcomed into unit membership at a gathering in the home of auxiliary chairman Mrs. Max Wahl, recently and a drive for new members will continue.

Rabbi Zionts, the assistant rabbi at Temple Emmanuel, will speak on Jewish involvment—Social Action and Mr. Chuck, the program director at Cameron House, will discuss the Teacher in the Church.

Persons interested in womens work in the church will attend a session of group dynamics under the leadership of Mrs. W. Russell Wilson, past president of the San Francisco Presbyterial.

MRS. MARGUERITE MURPHY was elected vice president of the Westlake Senior Citizens and Mrs. Lyn Humphreys was named the new secretary of the group at a recent meeting of the group in the recreation room of the Westlake Community Baptist Church.

Women Plan Fashion Show

HOLY ANGELS' Fashion Show Chairmen Mrs. James Sharpen, right, and Mrs. Larry Sheerin go over plans for the show, which will be held February 19 at the Sheraton Thunderbolt Hotel in Millbrae. Theme of the show will be "Discover America in Style."

Scout Week Events Set

Preparations are nearly completed by more than 12,000 members of the San Mateo County Boy Scouts of America for their observance of national Boy Scout Week, February 7 to 13.

Members of Cub Scout packs, Boy Scout units and Explorer posts have planned a variety of events to present the image of scouting to the public.

"Breakthrough for Youth" is the theme of the observance of the fifty-sixth anniversary of scouting and will give all scouts a chance to report on their two-year effort to expand the scout program in the county.

More than 200 scouts will participate in the placement of window displays in business establishments throughout the county and live demonstrations for which awards will be made.

At the same time Cub Scouts will give "Blue and Gold" dinner for families and friends and Boy Scouts will hold "Courts of Honor" and troop potlucks.

Scout units also will honor former scouts and scout leaders with the slogan "Once a Scout Always a Scout" at traditional open house meetings.

Other general county activities will include observance of Scout-Sabbath, February 11 and 12, and Scout Sunday, February 13; and a Good Turn for Chartered Institution Day when each scout unit will participate in a service project for the organization that holds its charter for the use of the scout program.

Most scout units also will take part in the traditional rededication to the Cub Scout Promise, Boy Scout Oath, or Explorer Code on February 8.

All units will wear their uniforms to school during Scout Week.

Fashion Show Is Planned By Guild

St. John's High School Ursuline Guild will meet at 8 p.m. next Weenesday at 4056 Mission Street.

Plans will be discussed for a fashion show to be held April 16.

Homeowners To Meet Monday

The Hillside Homeowners' Improvement Association will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the music room of the Colma K-6 School.

Election of officers for 1966 will take place at the meeting.

Rummage Sale Is Planned By OLM

The Our Lady of Mercy Rummage Sale will be held on Saturday, February 19, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the parish hall.

The second day sale will be held in the national guard armory at 14th and Mission Streets in San Francisco from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Wednesday, February 23.

Items for the sale may be left at the parish hall at 7 Elmwood Drive.

Mrs. Elwin Short may be called for more information at PL 5-5669.

CRUMB TOPPING

For a crumbly topping for a one-crust apple pie, stir a cup of granulated and brown sugar; cut in several tablespoons of butter or margarine so particles are tiny.

CREAM AND PEARS

Ever blend cream cheese with Roquefort or Blue cheese and serve with fresh pears for dessert?

Stravinsky Concert Set

Igor Stravinsky has announced the program he and his associate, Robert Craft, will conduct in three San Francisco Symphony concerts February 23 to 25 at the Opera House.

In an all-Stravinsky program, the composer will conduct the Von Himmel Hoch Variations and the Symphony of Psalms, assisted by the San Francisco State College A Cappella Choir, John Tegnell, director.

Also he will perform the West Coast premiere of Variations for Orchestra.

Craft will conduct the Rite of Spring.

Few tickets remain for the three concerts.

For information or reservations, persons may write or call the Opera Symphony box offices at Sherman Clay at 141 Kearny Street, EX 7-0717, or the North Lobby box office at UN 1-4008.

AAUW Pacifica Branch Meets

The Pacifica branch of the American Association of University Women will meet at 8 tonight in the Vallemar School multi-use room.

Una Wood, consumer specialist for the Food and Drug Administration, will speak on "The Law Behind the Label." Miss Wood has invited questions from the audience concerning consumer problems.

The public is invited.

There will be a regular AAUW business meeting following refreshments.

BERRY PANCAKES

Small thin Scandinavian pancakes offered for dessert are usually served with lingonberries, but if these berries aren't available you may substitute whole cranberry sauce.

FRESH POPCORN

When you are serving popcorn (freshly made) toss it with melted butter and grated Parmesan cheese. This makes a delicious "munch" when offered with tomato juice.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

THE 14-KARAT cake recipe that appeared in this column recently was so good and such an easy cake to make from scratch that it caused one of my friends to bake another cake from scratch. And in these days of easy-mix packaged cakes, that is quite an accomplishment.

Not that my friend is lazy, or not a good cake maker, it's just that in these hurry-hurry days it's an easy matter to open a box, mix and pop a cake in the oven.

However, after the fine reception the carrot cake received she was inspired and made a devil's food cake and is kind enough to share the receipe with us.

DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE

- ¼ cup shortening
- ½ cup boiling water
- 2 rounded tablespoons cocoa
- 1 egg, unbeaten
- 1 cup sugar
- ¾ cup sour milk or cream
- 1 cup flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- ½ teaspoon salt

Combine the shortening, cocoa and boiling water in a bowl, and stir until dissolved. Add the unbeaten egg. Next add the sugar and sour milk and beat.

Sift flour, soda and salt together and add to the other mixture and beat well.

Bake in a greased and floured loaf pan in 350-degree oven for about 35 minutes. Or until cake tests done.

This makes a small loaf cake and is delicious frosted with the cream cheese frosting that we used on the carrott cake.

MAKING LASAGNE SAUCE is like playing a bridge hand, everyone thinks they know the best way to do it. I hasten to add that I can make lasagne sauce a lot better than I can play bridge and therefore feel more competent to pass on a lasagne sauce recipe than I do instructions for making three-no-trump.

LASAGNE SAUCE

- ½ cup sliced onions
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1½ pound ground meat
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 can of tomatoes (No. 2½ size)
- 1 can of tomato sauce
- 1 can mushrooms (8 ounces)
- 1 cup water
- 1½ teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon powdered sage
- ¼ teaspoon thyme
- 1 teaspoon rosemary
- 2 bay leaves
- 2 tablespoons sugar (optional)

Saute onions in oil until tender. Add meat and minced garlic, continue cooking, stirring frequently, until the meat is brown. Then add the tomatoes and tomato sauce. (Use the cup of water to rinse that last bit of goodness out of the cans and add.)

Pour in the mushrooms, water-and-all, and then the seasonings. You may or may not want to add sugar, I'm from the south and we always add sugar to tomatoes, so suit your regional tastes. Simmer uncovered for 1½ hours or until sauce is thick enough to please you, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking.

Be sure to remove bay leaves before you use sauce.

Mint Sale Set

THE NORTH COUNTY'S sweet tooth will be tempted in coming weeks during the annual sale of chocolate-covered mints by members of Camp Fire Girls groups. Funds from candy sales finance activities of the 55-year-old youth organization. Preparing packages of mints for sale are Nanette Vetrano, member of the organization's senior level Horizon Club and Daly City Camp Fire Girls Therese Coates, left, and Nancy Nolan. Sale will continue until the end of February.

CIGARETTES STOLEN

Officials of the Mission Drive-In Theater at 500 Guttenberg Street, Daly City, reported to police last week that burglars had stolen cigarettes from a vending machine.

YWCA Unit Previews Its Program

The Spring program at the San Mateo County YWCA was previewed at its last meeting along with other community organizations, by county dignitaries Frank Pacelli, mayor of Daly City, and Dennis of the Daly City council, Mrs Jean Fassler and Louis Chess, county supervisors.

Door prizes were donated by U.S.E. Department Store, Alec Shopping Center and the Westlake Merchant's Association.

Classes will begin the week of February 7, and include the newly organized parent-participation nursery program for pre-schoolers from two years, 9 months to school age.

Adult program in exercises, Hawaiin Dance, Ballet, Hobby Art; Pre-teen and children's classes in dance, guitar, ukulele, puppetry, Hawaiian Dance and Journalism through the "Party - Line" Press club.

P-TA Events

Bayshore Will Fete Founders

The Founders Day program for the Bayshore P-TA will be held Tuesday night at 8 at the school's auditorium.

This year's theme will be "THE INTERNATIONAL FOUNDERS DAY VALENTINE PAGEANT."

The decorations will be in accordance with the valentine pageant and the entertainment will co-incide with the International theme. Mrs. Walter Henning and Mrs. Ernest Raffo are working on the decorations with Mrs. Fred Pajkos and Mrs. Stanley Downall arranging the entire program.

A musical extravaganza will be presented by various students in the area. They will be representing countries far and near.

Immediately following the program, Mrs. Thomas McNamara past president and Honorary Life Membership chairman of the unit will make the presentation of the National Honorary Life Membership Award to a deserving person.

This will be the first time since our unit organized that a National Award will be presented.

Mrs. Floyd Osterberg President of the Bayshore PTA will preside over the meeting.

Washington Unit Meets Tonight In Multi-Use Room

Tonight in the multi-use room of George Washington school at 7:30 p.m. the school P-TA will hold its next meeting.

Girl Scout Troop 296, directed by Mrs. Virginia Tufts, will lead a pledge to the flag.

The meeting is entitled "Sentimental Journey" in honor of Founders Day.

Recently, a committee met to select a worthy person for a life membership award.

Mrs. June Bianchini is the chairman and Mrs. Peggy Benjamin, Mrs. Janice Robinson, Mrs. Phyllis Poncia and Dr. B. Gerdes, principal, served on the committee.

Mrs. Janice Robinson, Founders Day chairman, will present the program for the evening. Mrs. Claire Newman, ways and means chairman, will hold a cake sale before and after the meeting.

JOSEPH L. McCABE
New Vice President

Bankers Get Promotions

Two new assistant vice presidents have been named at Crocker-Citizens National Bank's administrative headquarters in San Francisco, it was announced by Emmett G. Solomon, president of the bank.

The new assistant vice presidents are Douglass C. Maxwell and Joseph L. McCabe.

Maxwell serves in the credit department as manager of the credit investigations section. and McCabe is in the central operations division of branch administration.

McCabe joined Crocker-Citizens in 1943, at what is now the bank's Anglo California office in San Francisco. Beginning as a transit clerk he later was named assistant chief inspector in the auditing department.

In 1959 he was transferred to the bank's Centerville office in Fremont as assistant manager, where he remained until 1964, when he returned to San Francisco and joined the operations administration as an assistant cashier.

McCabe and wife, Anne, live at 324 Skyline Drive in Daly City. They have two sons and three daughters.

GEORGE VETARI of 267 Abbot Avenue, Daly City, has been elected as the 1966 president of the Excelsior Businessmen's Association. He is the manager of the Eureka Federal Savings and Loan Association's Excelsior office.

Dimes Fete Slated For San Mateo

Major league baseball players will meet on Sunday, February 13, 1966, at Fitzgerald Field in San Mateo, in a special benefit ball game for the San Mateo County March of Dimes.

The event was announced by James J. Kehoe, County Chapter chairman and San Mateo Fire Chief Noe Chanteloup, who is handling details of the game.

"We're most fortunate in getting so many fine players for our annual March of Dimes benefit game," Kehoe said. "It's a great opportunity for all sports fans to make a special contribution to the 1966 March of Dimes."

Some of the many players who will participate in the game are: Stu Miller, Wally Bunker, Frank Bertania of the Orioles; Tom Haller, Jim Davenport, Jack Hyatt, and Don Landrum of the Giants; Mike McCormick of the Washington Senators; Ron Stone of the Kansas City Athletics; Jim Lonberg of the Boston Red Sox; Ed Bresseau of the New York Mets and Del Crandell of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

All admission fees will go to support the fight against birth defects and to the continuing aid to the many post-polio patients in San Mateo County.

Systematic Adds Space To Quarters

Systematic Savings and Loan Association at 7070 Mission Street in Daly City has completed a remodeling and addition program that has tripled its floor space.

Floor space in the office now totals over 6500 square feet. Included is a large board of directors meeting room which can be "used for various meetings and groups in the community" according to John Wuerthner, president of the company.

Added services include automation in the accounting department.

"Instead of a garage. it (the building) looks more like a financial institution," Wuerthner remarked.

He added that the expansion and remodeling program cost about $50,000.

A formal ribbon-cutting ceremony, "opening' the expanded quarters, will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

Bay Fill Plan For Airport Is Unveiled

A plan to create a new "super airport" on filled Bay land southeast of the existing San Francisco International Airport in San Mateo County was unviled last week.

Dumping of fill material would take four years and fill up nearly 1,000 acres of the Bay. The cost is estimated at $200 million.

The airport plans were disclosed by a team of planning and architectural consultants at a briefing session in San Francisco.

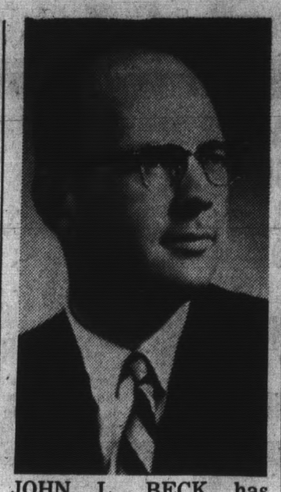
There are two stages — The first would take $100 million to expand the existing airport facilities and begin the Bay fill for the future.

The second phase, to cost $200 million, would build a new airport in perhaps ten years to handle 27 million passengers a year—triple the present traffic.

The super airport would be on 630 acres of filled land southeast of the present terminal in an area where San Francisco owns 5,200 acres, more than half of it under water.

The terminal would be four stories high, with cargo facilities on the first floor, passenger facilities on the second, parking for 20,000 vehicles on the third and fourth and heliports on the roof.

The $135 million building would have fingers extending from it around which 108 airplanes—double the number the present facilities can handle—could park.



JOHN L. BECK has joined Aetna Realty Company in the Broadmoor Shopping Center. He will specialize in the Aetna Home Trade-in Plan, according to Morris Kay, president of the company. Beck formerly was associated with Galli Home Builders.

D.C. Cameraman Enters Exhibit

A Daly City photographer, J. E. Peters of 1340 Southgate Avenue has submitted four photos for judging in the International Exhibition of Photography, one of the major attractions at the National Orange Show March 10-20 in San Bernardino.

Peters prints are titled "Scene Stealer," "Mail Boxes," "Looking Backward" and "Church.

A LARGE ORANGE

A very large seedless orange will yield about one-half cup of membrane-free orange sections plus juice.

Transit In County Is Inventoried

Seventy-five per cent of the transit system facilities in San Mateo County have been inventoried.

This report was made by the engineering - planning research team of DeLeuw and Nolte at the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority's board meeting held in the County Office Building, Redwood City.

Maps of routes and stops, schedules, tables of fare structures, patronage, financial data and an inventory of rolling stock and equipment for Bayside, Coastside, and other Peninsula services have been assembled.

The information plus other essential economic and traffic estimates, will be used to develop alternative transit sysem ideas. Usable systems will be priced and their revenues estimated.

The DeLeuw-Nolte joint venture has been retained by the WBRTA to develop a Master Transit Paln by December of 1967.

The plan when completed after public hearings will be presented to the voters of San Mateo County in early 1968.

The Master Transit Paln development process has been divided into three phases. The first and third phases will be done by the joint venture and the second phase by the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission.

This state commission is deoveloping a master regional transportation plan for the nine Bay Area counties.

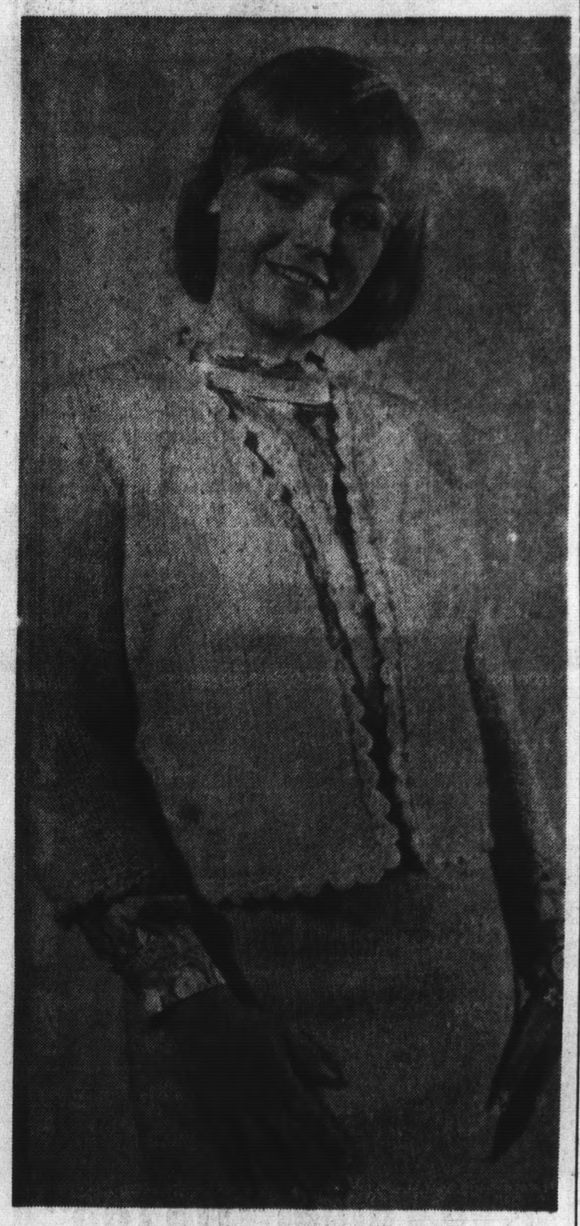
LET'S KNIT

With Illustrated Patterns By Ursula duBois



Elegant Outfit

Admiring glances are a boost to anyone's moral. Smart looking all year 'round is this easy to knit outfit modeled by Linda Foster of NBC Television.

The skirt is knitted in two pieces and started from the top —so style changes in length will never be a problem. The sleeves sleeves of the jacket — which doubles as a sweater—have a three-inch slit for extra added interest. Optional is the scalloped edging at the edges of the sleeves and around the entire garment. Large needles were used for this outfit and the yarn cost is slight.

Illustrated instructions are written in sizes eight through 22. All sizes are included on one pattern.

To obtain pattern No. 77, send 50 cents in coin, check, or money order to:

Ursula duBois, San Mateo Times, Box 3307, Van Nuys, Calif. 91407.

Send 15 cents extra for first class mail and special handling. Please print plainly your name, address, pattern number, and zip code number.

Other patterns you may enjoy:

QUESTION: I intend to make a swimsuit. What type of yarn resists chlorinated water best?

ANSWER: Any yarn that is colorfast except black. Black seems to look so well on many women but should not be used for pool use. It has the unfortunate habit of turning into sick looking shades of gray. Regardless of which color yarn you intend to use always rinse your garment thoroughly after each use.

QUESTION: What can I do to keep a knitted swimsuit in shape?

ANSWER: Hold and knit together yarn and a fine elastic thread, such as is used on your sewing machine bobbin when shirring. It keeps the garment beautifully in shape when wet. Treat the swimsuit as any garment, only DON'T throw it into a dryer as the yarn may shrink!

If the garment is already knitted, weave the elastic thread through the rows of the inside by hand. It may sound very tedious, but it is really a fast procedure.

QUESTION: What is meant by binding off in pattern?

ANSWER: In a knit one, purl one ribbing, for instance, knit a stitch as on your previous row and then bind this stitch off. On a purl stitch, purl this stitch as before, then use it for binding off. Continue in this manner across the entire row. In other words, always work the stitch that is to be bound off first as if you were to keep on knitting.

Miss duBois welcomes mail from readers but cannot give a personal answer. She will discuss and pass on the most interesting questions and hints.

Water, Water Everywhere

Remember the grim and dreary poem of the Ancient Mariner, with "water, everywhere, and not a drop to drink?' Remember how you used to have to memorize it, or even—horrors!—recite it?

Two-thirds of the earth's surface is covered with water, and yet right now the nineteenth century poetic fantasy is facing us as a menacing truth. There is a growing shortage of fresh water in many areas, including such populous metropolitan centers as New York, where you have to ask for a drink in a restaurant. Worse, much of our water is poor in color, clarity, taste or odor, and some of it actually contains chemical wastes, filth and bacterial growth. Among the most serious of water pollutants are the growing amounts of detergents in use in home and industry.

The human body is composed of about two-thirds water, by weight. This high water content of the body has been called "the sea within you." It is, literally, salt water plus other essential substances in solution.

Water is included among the six essential nutrients, the other five being proteins, carbohydrates, fats, minerals, and vitamins. All foods contain a percentage of water, and some valuable ones, like whole milk (87 per cent) and tomatoes (93 per cent) contain a great deal.

Water is essential to all chemical processes in the body, which must take place in solution. The water used in our bodies daily must be replaced as the used water is excreted. The interchange represents several pints a day by kidneys, bowels, perspiration and exhaled breath. Variations occur depending on activity, temperature, salt balance, illness, and drugs which may cause increased loss through bowels, kidneys or skin.

Most drinking water contains traces of mineral elements from the soil through which it passed on its way to your kitchen. Some of these, like iodine which prevents simple goiter or fluoride which lessens dental decay, are important nutrients which must be supplied in the total diet if they are not naturally present in proper quantities.

City water supplies, as a rule, are now adequately protected against contamination; rural supplies must be protected by the owner's own initiative. It is important not to waste water, which is no longer cheap and plentiful. Dripping faucets and unmetered supplies waste millions of gallons annually.

You are lucky if you have a reliable stream of cold, clean, fresh and safe water when you turn your kitchen faucet.

Casserole Dishes Have Wide Fame

Casserole is a word derived from the French but casserole dishes know no language barriers. Mouth watering dishes cooked this way are to be found in practically every country.

Take this one for example:

POTATO CHIP AUBERGINE ITALIENNE

- 2 lbs. ground beef
- 1 c. cracker or bread crumbs
- 1 egg
- 1 medium sized eggplant
- 2 oz. milk
- 1 medium zied eggplant
- 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
- 2 tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 cans cream of mushroom soup
- 1 can beef consomme
- 2 oz. capers
- ¼ lb. small or medium fresh white mushrooms
- ⅛ tsp. thyme
- ⅛ tsp. rosemary
- ⅛ tsp. marjoram
- ½ tsp. chopped, dry oregano
- ¼ tsp. pepper
- 2 cloves garlic
- ½ tsp. salt
- ⅛ tsp. monosodium glutamate
- 1 c. olive oil
- 1 bag crisp potato chips

Mix ground beef, crumbs, egg and milk. Add salt, pepper, thyme, rosemary, marjoram and monosodium glutamate. Add finely chopped onion, crushed garlic and capers. Mix well with meat.

Make into meat balls (about 18). Brown meat balls thoroughly in heavy iron skillet using 1-3 cup olive oil for shortening. Remove meat balls and set aside.

Peel eggplant and slice into ¼, inch disks. Use balance of olive oil to fry eggplant on both sides until soft. (If you have a large iron casserole, it can be used for the eggplant. Pour 8 oz. tomato sauce over eggplant. Sprinkle oregano and cheese over tomato sauce and then loosely spread a layer of potato chips over this. Place browned meatballs on potato chips. Mix cream of mushroom soup and consomme in bowl and pour over meatballs. Close casserole tight and put in preheated oven of 300 degrees. At the end of 50 minutes put a layer of crisp potato chips over meatballs. Return to oven for 10 minutes. Spoon helpings by going all the way to bottom of casserole so eggplant and first layer of chips are included along with meat balls and top layer of chips. Serves 7 or 8.

Daisy's Sour Cream Cake Is Popular

An old-fashioned cake that is always popular.

Soup and Salad
Hot French Bread
Daisy's Sour Cream Cake

DAISY'S SOUR CREAM CAKE

- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 teaspoon each baking powder and baking soda
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 large eggs
- 1 carton (8 ounces) sour cream
- Nut Mixture.

On paper, sift together cake flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. In a large bowl, cream butter, sugar and vanilla; thoroughly beat in eggs, one at a time. Stir in sifted dry ingredients in four additions, alternately with sour cream, just until smooth each time. Turn half the batter into a greased and floured 9-by 3 inch angelfood cake pan. Sprinkle half the Nut Mixture over the batter. Add remaining batter; sprinkle with remaining Nut Mixture. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out without any dough particles sticking to it—about 40 minutes. Allow cake in pan to rest on wire rack for 10 minutes; loosen sides and turn out.

Nut Mixture: Stir together ¼ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cinnamon and ¼ cup rotary-grated walnuts.

VALENTINE CAKE

Melt semi-sweet chocolate and spread thickly over a heart-shaped cake. Outline the edge with a row of sliced natural almonds for a doubly delectable Valentine's Day dessert.

If your New Year got off to a bad start give yourself a second chance by celebrating the Chinese New Year on Jan. 21. To help you celebrate, here is a delicious casserole, reminiscent of Jambalya. Whole shrimp, rice, and crunchy bean sprouts are baked in a tasty sauce. Curly chow mein noodles glorify the top of this casserole.

Here's One For Year of Horse

Last week, San Francisco welcomed Chinese New Year, the year of the Horse. You can do likewise with delectable Sprout and Shrimp Jumbo, a casserole faintly reminiscent of Louisiana Jambalya. Whole shrimp, rice, and crunchy bean sprouts are baked in a tasty sauce of tomato soup and hearty cream. Crisp chow mein noodles glorify the top of this casserole.

Created as a meatless day entree by home economists, this luncheon or dinner casserole is complete with a gelatin salad, hot buttered rolls and steaming hot coffee.

Salute the Chinese New Year by fixing this casserole in the morning and baking it one hour before dinner.

SPROUT AND SHRIMP JUMBO
(Serves 4-6)

- 1½ pounds shrimp, peeled and deveined
- 2 bay leaves
- 3 strips lemon peel
- 3 to 5 whole cloves
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¾ cup chopped green onion and tops
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 2 tablespoons butter
- ¼ teaspoon ground bay leaves
- Dash cayenne
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon soy sauce
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- Pinch of sugar
- ½ cup rice, cooked according to pkg. directions and drained
- 1 1-pound can (2 cups) bean sprouts, rinsed and drained
- 1 can condensed cream of tomato soup
- ¾ cup heavy cream
- 1 cup sliced almonds
- ½ cup chow mein noodles

Boil shrimp in enough water to cover. Add bay leaves, lemon peel, cloves and salt. Boil five minutes or until tender. Saute onion and garlic in butter. Add herbs and spices and seasonings.

Place cooked shrimp in two-quart casserole. Add onion mixture, cooked rice and bean sprouts. Pour soup and cream over mixture. Add almonds. Mix well. Sprinkle chow mein noodles on top. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour or until lightly browned and bubbly.

Fish For Breakfast? Why Not

Fish for breakfast? "Why not?" asks the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

Most people who have had a breakfast of sizzling fish cooked over a campfire minutes after it was caught will agree they've never tasted anything better, the Bureau adds.

To carry out the fish-for-breakfast theme, the Bureau today announced publication of a new recipe booklet to help homemakers perform their culinary magic with fish, and at the same time provide the family with a hearty morning meal.

The publication, "Top of The Mornin' With Fish and Shellfish," is available for 25 cents from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402. It is illustrated in color.

Bureau home economists developed and tested more than 20 new recipes and suggestions for serving fish and shellfish for breakfast or brunch. These include crispy fried rainbow trout, breakfast perch, lobster waffles, sesame smelt, shrimp in sour cream, and many others.

Donald L. McKernan, Bureau Director, said improved transportation and refrigeration have made fishery products a "good buy" throughout the country.

Director McKernan said:

"Nutritionists agree that one-fourth to one-third of our daily food requirement should be eaten at the morning meal; however large groups of our population still prefer a few minutes of extra sleep to a nourishing breakfast. By noon, half the day's work is done, yet only a small portion of the daily nutritional requirement, especially protein, has been satisfied. There is no better way of meeting this requirement than by serving fish. It is a high-quality protein food abundantly supplied with vitamins and minerals."

He said the new recipes are adaptable for an evening meal, for midday or midnight snacks, and for hot or cold weather.

EGG FILLING

- 6 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- 3 tablespoons mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon instant minced onion or 1 teaspoon snipped chives
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper

Brown Sugar Frosting For A Spice Cake

If you like brown sugar flavor, you'll enjoy this cake frosting. Creamed Fish on Steamed Rice
Chutney Broccoli
Spice Cake with Southern Frosting

SOUTHERN FROSTING

- ½ cup (1 stick) butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups firmly packed light brown sugar
- 2-3 cup heavy cream

Cream the butter and vanilla. Gradually and alternately beat in the brown sugar and cream; continue beating, if necessary, until very fluffy. Makes a generous amount of frosting to use as filling and covering (top and sides) of 2 layer cakes baked in round 9-inch pans. Store filled and frosted cake in refrigerator.

AFTER-FIVE POTATO AND CABBAGE SOUP

- 1 cup coarsely chopped cabbage
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of potato soup
- ½ soup can milk
- ½ soup can water
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- Dash pepper
- Butter

In saucepan cook cabbage in butter until tender. Stir in soup, milk, water, parsley, and pepper. Heat; stir now and then. Garnish each serving with a pat of butter, if desired. Makes 2 or 3 servings.

Villa Chartier Serves "Food With a History"

"FOOD WITH A HISTORY"—And that's just where the VILLA CHARTIER takes over. Since 1925, the flag of success has flown atop this Peninsula restaurant favorite. Where many other restaurants have come and gone during these many years, EMERSON MURFEE'S Villa Chartier has continued to please countless diners with fine food and selected wines and liquors, all served in an atmosphere of friendly informality. For those who enjoy the foods and beverages of the tropics, the theme of the islands is featured at the exotic LANAI restaurant, another Emerson Murfee exterprise located just next door to the Villa Chartier. MR. N. Y. PALMER, general manager of these well established restaurants, personally sees to it that your evening is a memorable one. Remember, the Villa Chartier is "Best for Banquets!". . . .

N. Y. Palmer

"SMILING JOE ERCOLI"—There's good reason to smile, what with beautiful Anna Marie Alberghetti right at hand. Anna Marie was a recent dinner guest of Joe and his brother, Lou, at their popular South San Francisco Leaning Tower restaurant. She has promised to play a "return engagement" on her next Bay Area visit.

CARROUSEL DU SOLEIL at Circle Star Theater, San Carlos, has become one of the Peninsula's favorite late-evening fun spots. This is where the stars and cast of the theater's productions gather after the show for impromptu parties and dancing to the smooth arrangements of the Emil Miller band. The public is always welcome — you don't need a ticket to the theater. Never a cover charge or minimum. . . . Beautiful Sallie Huntting, former Powers model in New York, now owns and operates the Mademoiselle Model Agency in San Jose. Sallie is the gal responsible for those luncheon-fashion shows held every Monday afternoon at Plateau 7 in San Jose, starting at 1 p.m. . . . Bill Gilbert features live dancing at his wild Tiger-A-Go-Go Club at the San Francisco Airport's Hilton Inn seven nights a week. Featured are the talented "Drifters" accompanied by the "Tribe," and a bevy of beautiful Tiger Kittens. Managed by handsome Steve Tsiptsis, the Tiger-A-Go-Go also has the world's largest Scopatone Screen —which keeps things jumping during the cocktail hour (starts at 5 p.m.). Entertainment by Maurice Anger each evening in the Mark Twain Lounge.

THE FABULOUS NAT "THE CAT" CONTI and his combo unleash a torrent of danceable music nightly at the El Rancho, Palo Alto. If you like to dance to pops, Latin, swing, jazz, or even waltz tempo, Nat is your boy. The amazingly versatile composer-artist plays music of every style, but doesn't get carried away with rock and roll antics. Lovers of hi-fi sounds will marvel at the magnificent sound system in the popular restaurant-night club for "people who like to meet people". . . . William McManus, better known as "Blackie" (he's bar manager of Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City), is a "wit-to-wit" match with customers who like to ad lib sessions during their cocktail sipping. For your information, most of his training was received from his pal Joe E. Lewis, the master of comedy and fast quips. . . .

No East Bay Tours On Barney Buses

Special note to Greyhound Bus passengers to Lake Tahoe (South Shore): Barney's Casino trips, which originate at the San Francisco Greyhound Bus Terminal (Seventh Street) at 6 a.m., 6:30 p.m. and 10 p.m., seven days a week, are EXPRESS. They don't take you on a tour of the East Bay before departing to the Lake. There is also a 12 noon departure daily, and an 8 p.m. additional schedule on Friday and Saturdays.

Seen dining at Pancho's in Redwood City, recently, was Mario Passarella, one of Italy's greatest antique reproduction specialists, whose works can be found in many exclusive homes throughout Hillsborough and the Bay Area.

'Highball' Defined By Nick Gust

Originally, "highball" meant a ball raised as a signal for railroad trains to go ahead or speed up, says Nick Gust, the Pacifica restaurant and cocktail lounge "tycoon." Hence, when bartenders found that ice, bourbon and water could be mixed speedily into a tasty drink, they called it a highball. "86."

Sil Oliva, the restaurant dean of San Francisco's Fisherman's Wharf, whose Exposition Fish Grotto is known all over the world, enjoys his afternoons at Bay Meadows — and especially a conflab with Joe Cohen. These "kids" can converse on any sport subject from horse racing to hot rods.

If an all-Oriental nitery show is something new for you, then set your sights in the direction of Coby Yee's Forbidden City in San Francisco. There's no cover charge for those enjoying a full course dinner, and the entertainment is exceptional!

Look for the Sinaloa's Los Roquet Duo to make a February television debut. This husband and wife team is one of show business' greats. Their trumpet and drum combination sounds like a six-piece band in full swing.

Knowledgable customers have commented that the La Touraine in Burlingame is reminiscent of the truly gourmet French restaurants as found in France.

Cameras Click At Phil Lehr's

The new Wellington Room at Phil Lehr's Steakery is so elegant that many diners ask permission to take color shots of the shimmery curtain-backed winding staircase and the two gorgeous huge chandeliers, among the many historic scenes in the new Wellington Room—considered one of the most beautiful in the U.S.

Mario's restaurant, located at 118 Castro Street, Mountain View, announces their grand opening on Saturday, February 5. Mario D'Aura, for many years maitre d' of the world famous Garden Court and Tudor Room of the Sheraton Palace Hotel, is the owner of this new Italian gourmet restaurant.

Looked like a convention of beauty contest winners when 20 Avis graduates celebrated with a dinner-party in the Executive Room at Lew Lehr's.

A personable, courteous escort accompanies every Seven Eleven Fun Trip to South Shore and the trained travel experts help make every trip a memorable one.

They assist in dining arrangements in Sacramento, the halfway stop, where everyone dines at the International Cuisine.

Clad in crimson sportcoats, the guides also assist in distributing room keys, check-in, and unloading baggage.

The young men come from every walk of life — including banking, entertainment, insurance, civil service retirement. They even lead singalong during the fun bus rides.

The Villa Lounge has a great musical hit in "The Lively Ones," who are keeping the Villa Hotel crowds highly entertained during their Tuesday through Saturday entertainment stints in the Lounge. Cocktails and dancing in the "No cover or minimum" bracket.

Hyatt House-Burlingame

Finocchio's Shows Nightly Sellouts

The best indication of how entertaining Finocchio's new show, "Funtime Circus," is at the famous San Francisco club is the sell-out of all seats at most performances. Its achievement is not only crowd-drawing but crowd-pleasing. Peninsula folks are well represented in the crowds here.

Hyatt House Is "19th" Hole

Burlingame's popular Hyatt House Hotel is a mighty busy place, these days, what with most of the pro golfers staying here during the Lucky International Tournament played at San Francisco's Harding Park.

Managed by personable Ed Sullivan, a pretty fair golfer in his own right, the conveniently located Hyatt House has two dining rooms with adjoining cocktail lounges. The Scheherazade Room offers Continental dinner-dancing with music by Bob Wellman, and Johnny Kan's Cantonese restaurant (located on the second level) which serves the finest of Chinese foods.

SPECIAL OCCASIONS
can be the link between you and a festive evening at Hyatt House Burlingame. For birthdays, weddings, anniversaries, any special celebration—this is the setting for happy memories. Gourmet food and fine entertainment are part of the luxury you enjoy at every Hyatt House hotel. Ideal for banquets and meetings, too.
Special Attraction: Bob Wellman and his Orchestra in the magnificent Scheherazade Room.

Laguna Authorizes Funds For Pedro Valley School

Funds for the purchase of Pedro Valley School site have been authorized by the Laguna Salada School District. Cost of the school will be $157.929.

Reports on two other school sites were given to trustees. Asst. Supt. John Munt reported progress on negotiations for purchase of the Peterson property for the Crespi School site and approval was given for the employment of Masten and Hurd as designers of Park Pacifica School. An architect's contract provides for a fee of 3 per cent of the cost of construction.

Enrichment programs in the 7th and 8th grades were discussed.

Cafeteria reports for November and December showed that Fairmont School served the largest number of pupil lunches and Sanchez School served the least.

San Mateo Group Rebuffs South S.F. Freeway Push

South San Francisco's push for early plannning of the proposed Bayfront Freeway by the State Division of Highways has been informally rebuffed by the San Mateo City Council.

According to Councilman Hugh A. Wayne, of San Mateo, "We shouldn't mess with the Bay. Instead we should double-deck the freeway from Coyote Point to Redwood City."

The Council's decision to "go slow" on plans for the freeway, proposed for construction east of and parallel to Bayshore, backed the bayfront subcommittee of the San Mateo County Regional Planning Committee. The subcommittee had recommended that plan lines for the Bayfront be wiped off the county master plan—at least for the present.

State Review Group Okays Mateo Plan

By GEORGE GOLDING

Unification of all schools within San Mateo Union High School District was approved by a State Review Committee last week. It will go to the voters in June.

The same committee had approved similar unification plans for the Sequoia district, and was expected to "go the same route" last night at a Daly City hearing of the Jefferson High School District.

Net result of these unifications would be this: San Mateo County would have only six school districts, instead of the nearly 30 existing now. These districts would be South San Francisco; Jefferson, including everything from Brisbane to Pacifica; Central Bayside, including San Bruno to San Mateo; Sequoia, including Belmont to Portola Valley; Pescadero and Cabrillo at Half Moon Bay.

The State Review Committee includes County Schools Superintendent James Tormey, La Honda area Trustee J. Paul Bradley, three school trustees from other counties, and a representative of the State Board of Education.

Before voting for the plan to unify all schools in the San Mateo Union High School District, the Committeemen noted that splitting the district would create "unreasonable expenditures," limit "ethnic integration," and allow "impoverishment" of the San Mateo City district.

"If there is a disagreement with the legislature," said Tormey, "the electorate should be given the chance to vote on it. This has been denied them for years."

Committee Chairman James Carroll, of Ross, Marin County, said the group's recommendation would be in the mail to Sacramento "within two days." A 10 a.m. spot on the State Board's February 1 agenda has already been reserved, he added, so the unification plans can get on the June Primary elections ballots.

ON THE HIGHWAYS

State Seeks Way To Alter 'Habits'

The California Division of Highways is studying ways of influencing the driving behavior of motorists who disregard such hazards as reduced visibility.

In tests conducted along a 1.5-mile section of Skyline Boulevard, researchers used electronic speed limit signs, to allow them to vary the limit with weather conditions. The conclusion: It is difficult to change the behavior of drivers who do not react voluntarily to changes in visibility.

To find a solution, an advisory panel has been organized. The study is divided into four categories.

This phase of the study is being conducted by the Division of Highways. Since chain-reaction, multiple - vehicle accidents, which occur during foggy weather, would be avoided if the initial triggering accident did not take place, and since this initial collision is usually caused by a faster moving vehicle overtaking a slower one, it was decided to test the effect of communicating the safe speed limit to the motorists.

Tests were conducted with the warning signs mentioned above.

Another general area that offered possibilities of accident prevention during periods of reduced visibility was improved marking of the roadway itself to prevent several different types of accidents.

There is a possibility that continuous shoulder striping could reduce the occurrence of the run-off-the-road type of accident and both the head-on or head-on sideswipe type of acident caused by vehicles traveling in opposite directions and each hugging the centerline for guidance.

Another type of accident, hitting fixed objects in the area separating an off-ramp from the freeway, can possibly be eliminated in foggy weather by painting a distinctive stripe at these locations.

Rain and occasionally fog wet the pavement as well as reduce visibility. When the pavement is wet, the visibility of the broken-white-stripe lane line is greatly reduced. Raised reflective lane markers are being installed by the Division of Highways on all freeways as a means of improving lane visibility in inclement weather.

Lynch to Ask County Board For Hearing

A request by ousted teacher Alfred R. Lynch for a re-hearing before the County Board of Education is scheduled to be considered by the board tonight.

The board revoked the Pacifica teacher's county certificate after sustaining charges of unprofessional conduct growing out of Lynch's campaign against what he called an anti-Christian attitude on the part of faculty and administration in the Laguna Salada District.

The petition for a re-hearing contends, among other things, that there was insufficient evidence to sustain the board's decision and that the revocation is contrary to the ruling in a Shasta County case that a teacher cannot be punished merely for having newspaper articles published.

Lynch's attorney, Clarence Knight, said he will file suit in Superior Court if the re-hearing is denied.

It is expected that Knight would also at that time ask that Lynch be reinstated on the district payroll pending outcome of the court review.

Hefty Book Of D.C. Laws Is Available

Daly City's municipal laws —all three pounds of them— are now available to the public in codified form for $50.

The three pounds is the approximate weight of the new 362-page volume that includes all the city's laws and regulations—coded under assigned designations.

The $50 price tag is the amount it costs the city to print each volume. A total of 100 copies has been printed.

Daly City Mayor Francis Pacelli noted that "the city libraries and the city clerk's office all will have copies on file for the public."

Interested parties may obtain their own copies by contacting the city clerk's office.

But, as Assistant City Manager Dave Rowe said, "the book would be worthwhile only to someone who deals in the law regularly."

Car's Brakes Fail; 4 Autos Damaged

An auto sideswiped two cars and smashed against two parked autos on Mission Street in Daly City Thursday afternoon after its brakes had failed, the driver told police. He was not injured.

Wallace Wilson, 42, of 516 Niantic Street, said his brakes gave out while he was proceeding north in the 6300 block of Mission.

He swerved to avoid a vehicle and sideswiped a car driven by Ida Smith, 30, of San Francisco.

His auto then sideswiped an auto driven by Ronald Schmidt of 1639 Sweetwood Drive, Colma, and careened against parked cars registered to Calvin Parks of 95 Como Avenue, Daly City, and Thomas Bourneilis of 6331 mission.

COUNTY MEETINGS

Condemnation For North Dump Seen

The county may have to resort to condemnation to acquire a dump site for the north county area, it was indicated Monday at a meeting in Redwood City.

Action on acquisition of the Green Valley site above Montara has been delayed for some time to give private operators a chance to develop an acceptable proposal. At the meeting Monday of the Waste Disposal Site Steering Committee the operators were given one last chance—until March 23—to make good.

At one time the county had planned to buy several sites throughout the county to assure that there will be adequate disposal facilities until the year 2000. Private operators came up with plans of their own, however, and now it appears that there will be no need for expenditure of public funds, with the possible exception of the Green Valley site.

The Serve-U Disposal Company had applied for a permit to operate a dump on 35 acres in Green Valley. The permit was denied, however, by county officials who said the site would not be large enough to last until the year 2000.

Engineer Ted Tronoff, representing Serve-U, told the committee Monday that up to 75 acres of Green Valley land, owned by the Doelger Company, would be available for the dump. He presented a tentative plan for a dump, however, that would require use of adjoining land in the valley not owned by Doelger.

Dwight Phillips, representing Doelger, said the owners of the adjoining property want to sell the entire 300 acres of their holding, at $3,000 an acre. The total cost of $900,000 to operate a dump on only part of the land would be "prohibitive," Phillips said.

City Manager Karl Baldwin of Pacifica reiterated the city's position that the entire valley should be set aside for the dump and that public acquisition would be the best way to handle it.

Demos Gain In County Registration

San Mateo County Democrats continued to increase their numerical superiority over Republicans during the past year, according to statistics prepared by County Clerk John A. Bruning.

Of the total present registration of 226,278, there are 126,029 Democrats and 92,977 Republicans.

In December of 1964, following cancellation for non - voting, there were 123,352 Democrats and 91,168 Republicans. The Democrats thus gained 868 in the interim.

The report shows a 100 per cent increase in the number of registrations in the Communist party. There are two now whereas there was only one a year ago.

During the year, a San Bruno voter joined a Burlingame citizen in the Communist ranks.

Present registration in other parties: Prohibition, 7; Constitution, 9; Independent Progressive, 4; Progressive, 5; Socialist, 7; Socialist Labor, 10; declined to state, 7,228.

Because of reapportionment ordered by the state legislature last year, the 26th Assembly District is predominantly Republican again.

The Democratic party cut away steadily at the margin, however, until in 1964 it took over the lead, 57,582 to 57,605. In the meantime, however, the boundary line was changed in San Mateo with the result that a Democratic area was taken from the 26th District and given to the 27th (northern) District, in which Democrats were already ahead about two to one.

Now the registration figures show: 58,737 Republicans to 57,229 Democrats in the 26th District; 68,800 Democrats and 34,240 Republicans in the 27th.

Republicans are ahead in two supervisorial districts — the Third and Fourth — but their margins are dwindling. In the Fourth, which includes Redwood City, Atherton, Menlo Park, Woodside, and Portola Valley, the present count is 28,057 to 27,909.

The margin of 148 is 36 less than a year ago. In the Third, which includes most of San Mateo, Belmont and San Carlos, the Republicans lead 25,026 to 22,815, a margin of 205 less than in December of 1964.

The present count in the other supervisorial districts:

First (part of Daly City, Colma, Brisbane, South San Francisco, San Bruno)—23,785 Democrat, 8,977 Republican.

Second (Millbrae, Burlingame, Hillsborough, and the area east of Bayshore Freeway from San Mateo to East Palo Alto)—25,260 Democrat, 19,631 Republican.

Fifth (most of Daly City, Pacifica, Half Moon Bay and the Coastside — 26,260 Democrat, 11,286 Republican.

Outfall Line Gets an 'A' On Inspection

The North San Mateo County Sanitation District's ocean outfall line has been inspected and pronounced "in very good condition" by Robert Bernicchi, district engineer-manager.

The deep-water line was inspected by a team of divers and officials in a helicopter. A dye was added to effluent to locate the end of the line.

"We had a little trouble finding the line," said Bernicchi Monday, "but we finally found the dye coming up out of one place and we got to it."

Strong ocean currents took the dye out of the pipe outfall area. Team divers spent three hours looking for the end of the pipe.

The line, installed two years ago in three stages at a cost of more than $450,000, will be thouroughly cleaned in August.

Used for the disposal of effluent sewage, the deep water outfall runs a half mile out into the acean and "hasn't moved at all since its installation," according to the district engineer.

The line leads from the district's treatment plant on Lake Merced Boulevard to the sewage line and is anchored at the end to secure it to the ocean floor.

The 2,500 foot pipe was built when the California Water Pollution Control Board issued a cease and desist order to the district because particles of grease had been found on Thornton Beach.

Bernicchi said that hard-hat divers will be used in August when the line is cleaned.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

After eating food containing sugar or carbohydrates, acid begins forming in your mouth. You should brush your teeth within fifteen minutes after eating before the acid has a chance to damage the enamel.

Use a tooth brush with a small head. Take time: Give the toothpaste a chance to work.

Brush down on upper teeth. Brush up on lower teeth. Force bristles into spaces between the teeth while brushing inner and outer surfaces.

Use scrubbing motion when brushing the chewing surfaces.

If you cannot brush your teeth after eating, you should rinse your mouth thoroughly with water.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit the practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

A FAMILY'S DREAM
4 years ago we built our beautiful spacious (3600 sq. ft.) home with the intention of living in it for many years to come. Unfortunate circumstances force us to sell this "dream home." What a good feeling it has been to entertain family and friends, either in the elegant separate dining room, or around the beautiful fireplace in the spacious family room. Gobs of elbow room in all-elect. kitchen with butler's pantry and closets galore. Spacious living room (20x20) for those very special occasions. Rest and sleep are important that's why our 4 bedrooms and 3½ baths are a masterpiece of planning and decorating. Walk-in closets and storage space are a homemaker's dream—ladies! I didn't miss a trick when we planned this home. Summer holidays are fun around our heated 18x42-ft. pool or relaxing on either of the 2 patios. Almost forgot to mention our lovely paneled study, 3-car garage, drapes, shutters, carpeting, + other features which must be seen to be appreciated. All included in the price of $74,950. Your inspection is invited, pelase call us for an appointment. 593-8618
